Senate Hinted Cool on Hike In Debt Ceiling

House Overrides GOP
Opposition, Sets New Limit at $308 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has chalked up for President Kennedy what may be a short-lived victory in his fight for a temporary national debt ceiling of $308 billion.

By a vote of 211-192 it sent to the Senate Thursday a bill upholding the President's position after defeating, 258-145, a Republican-backed drive for a $306 billion limit.

More trouble lies ahead in the Senate. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the finance committee, opposes the larger figure.

Byrd has suggested no compromise figure, but informed guessing is that in its final form the limit will be pegged at $306 billion, a figure the administration claims won't give it enough leeway to deal with fiscal fluctuations during the coming year.

Kennedy suggested at his news conference Thursday that failure to raise the debt ceiling could have a profound effect on the economy.

The question came up when he was asked to comment on Republican charges the administration has been pressuring congressmen to support a higher debt limit or risk loss of defense work in their districts.

Without replying directly, Kennedy said he hopes it was explained to all congressmen that failure to boost the limit would force the government to stretch out payment of its bills.

He recalled that the Eisenhower administration was forced to do this in 1957. Kennedy said the Brookings Institution and scholars from other organizations have concluded this sort of stretch was a factor in creating the 1958 recession.

The Senate Finance Committee, headed by Byrd, doesn't plan to start hearings on the debt limit increase before June 25. That is five days before the end of the present fiscal year, when the temporary debt ceiling of $306 billion drops to $285 billion, about $9 billion less than the expected national debt at that time.

Four Democrats joined the House Republicans in their fight for a $306-billion roof. Twenty-one Republicans voted against it.

On passage, 202 Democrats and 9 Republicans gave the President his victory, while 39 Democrats joined 153 Republicans in opposition.

Ratterman Foe Testifies in Rights Trial

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Tito Carinci contended from the witness stand today the times George Ratterman had been in his night club bothering waitresses and showgirls were "too numerous to mention."

Under cross-examination by the prosecution, however, Carinci admitted a statement he gave the FBI a year ago made no mention of any Ratterman misconduct with women employees.

Carinci said the matter was omitted from the FBI statement "out of respect for Ratterman's wife x x x and his brother who was x x x a priest."

"But he hasn't had any respect for my family, particularly my ailing father."

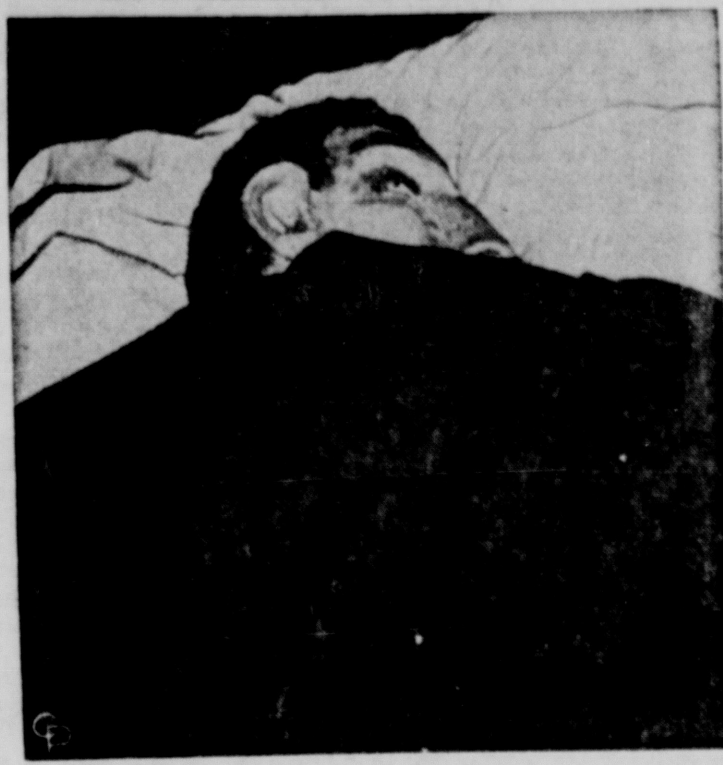

Carinci contended that one reason for his trouble in the Ratterman civil rights case was that he spurned April Flowers, a strip tease dancer who was arrested with Ratterman in Carinci's apartment.

"She has stated in front of witnesses that she wanted me to get self, that no other girl would get self," Carinci testified Thursday in U.S. District Court. "She wanted a $1,500 (Dancing) contract to be paid to her or she would 'bury' me."

A federal grand jury last year indicted Carinci and five other men on charges of violating the civil rights of Ratterman, who was later elected sheriff of neighboring Campbell County on a reform ticket.

Gilbert Finances Being Probed

Federal Aides Grab
Financier's Files

NEW YORK (AP)—Both the Securities and Exchange Commission and the district attorney's office are looking into the affairs of Edward M. Gilbert, who flew to Brazil after acknowledging that he withdrew $1,933,000 without authorization from the E.L. Bruce Co.

Federal officials seized the personal files of Gilbert Thursday. He resigned as president and director of Bruce, a flooring manufacturer, before he left the country for Rio de Janeiro.

At the same time the office of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said it was looking into all phases of Gilbert's far-ranging financial activities.

"So far we have barely scratched the surface," said Jerome Kidder, assistant district attorney, in charge of the frauds bureau. "We can't say anything until we see the checks, documents and books."

Kidder said no criminal action has been taken against Gilbert. "At the moment we are not in a position to extradite him even if we could locate him," he said.

Gilbert, 38, has remained incommunicado in Rio, with no one seeming to know his exact whereabouts. Gilbert reportedly has contacted a Brazilian lawyer.

Brazil currently has no effective extradition treaty with the United States.

To whom Gilbert made out the checks, and for what purpose, remains a mystery.

However, E.L. Bruce Jr., who has taken over as president of the firm, said he believed Gilbert used the money to protect his interest in Celotex Corp.

Gilbert had been one of the largest stockholders in Celotex, a manufacturer of building materials. He had been seeking to merge Celotex with the Bruce company.

Jet Plant Strike Faces U.S. Wrath

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy ordered the Justice Department today to seek a court order stopping the strike of machinists and other employees against Republic Aviation, the only source of supply of F105 jet fighters.

Kennedy said the strike of 9,000 workers "will imperil the national safety" if permitted to continue. The walkout started April 2, with a dispute over a new contract, with job security and severance pay provisions among the chief points of controversy.

Republic has announced some 7,600 employees will have to be laid off within the next two years because of a withdrawal of government orders.

JFK Urges GOP Ignore Party When Voting

Nonpartisan Stance
Said Needed on Issues
Of 'Great Import'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, giving Democrats in Congress a light pat on the back, has urged Republicans to ignore party labels and vote for his major proposals.

Kennedy's prod at his news conference Thursday amounted to a concession that he needed GOP votes on some issues as well as a challenge to Republicans to adopt a nonpartisan stance on "matters of great national import."

As a senator, Kennedy recalled, he sided with former Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower on such questions as raising the debt limit and permitting aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia as a tool of foreign policy. He encouraged Republican support on these propositions. And he put special emphasis on his farm bill, already passed by the Senate, to couple production controls with price supports for wheat and feed grains.

Kennedy used the nationally televised conference to exhort flight engineers "to meet their public responsibilities" and abandon strike threats against Pan American Trans World and Eastern air lines. He did not rule out the possibility of seeking authority to seize the airlines if the engineers walked out, but said he hoped they would submit their dispute to arbitration or find some other peaceful solution.

Then, in reply to questions, Kennedy suggested politics and old positions be discarded in favor of fresh thinking on business and the economy. Here, he appealed to Republicans outside of Congress to concentrate on "the real problems of our country" and

Boy, Age 10, Is Heir to $30 Million

BRUNSON, S.C. (AP)—A tall 10-year-old boy who has led an unobtrusive life in this rural South Carolina community is heir to the son's share of one of the country's largest fortunes.

Walker P. (Skipper) Inman Jr. was bequeathed $30 million of the $40 million estate left by his grandmother, Nanaline H. Duke.

Mrs. Duke, widow of the founder of the American Tobacco Co. died April 12 at the age of 90. An order admitting the will to probate was signed Thursday in Surrogate Court in New York.

Since the death of his parents, Skipper has lived in this little community near the Georgia border, midway between Augusta and Savannah, with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lightsey, and his half-sister Susan Inman. Susan is a student at the University of South Carolina.

Young Inman is a grandson by Mrs. Duke's first marriage to Dr. William P. Inman of Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. Duke, the former Miss Nanaline Holt of Macon, Ga., was a widow at the time of her second marriage.

Skipper's aunt is Doris Duke, who is wealthy in her own right. She was remembered in her mother's will with a bequest of personal property, jewelry and clothing, but no cash.

Mrs. Duke left $5 million to Duke University, in trust for the benefit of its medical school and hospital. Other bequests totaled about $800,000, and the balance went to her grandson.

Her late husband, James Buchanan Duke, was chief benefactor of the Duke Foundation.

Very High Nuclear Test Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to set off a nuclear burst at least 125 miles high—and probably much higher—over the Pacific Monday night.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the date Thursday, saying the blast would be triggered in the Johnston Island area southwest of Hawaii.

The device will have the explosive force of about a million tons of TNT.

The test was scheduled for between 11 p.m. Monday and 2:30 a.m. Tuesday Hawaiian Standard Time—4 a.m. to 7:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

If the test is delayed because of weather or technical problems beyond that 3½-hour period, it will be put off to a later date.

Canada Raps Red Meddling

Khrush Is Accused
Of Interference

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker has accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of vengeful meddling in the Canadian election with a charge that Diefenbaker's Conservative government is making preparations for nuclear armament.

With the election of a new Parliament coming up Monday, Diefenbaker said Thursday in a campaign speech Khrushchev "doesn't want this government back because we took a stand on Soviet colonialism that he doesn't like."

Soviet Ambassador A. A. Aronov delivered a Kremlin protest Thursday which said if nuclear warheads are located on Canadian territory, the Soviet Union would have to take counter-measures to safeguard its security.

Diefenbaker's government immediately rejected the Soviet note as "inadmissible interference in Canadian affairs."

Diefenbaker's chief opponents unanimously backed him against the Soviets.

Lester B. Pearson, Liberal leader, termed the Soviet statement "arrogant and clumsy" and said it would not affect Canadian attitudes "toward nuclear weapons or toward Soviet imperialism."

J. C. Douglas of the New Democratic party said Khrushchev should know Canadians deplored the "callous and contemptuous" Soviet resumption of nuclear testing last fall.

The Social Credit leader, Robert Thompson, said the Soviet statement was "ill timed and nothing more than Russian interference with a Canadian election."

Canada is building two Bomarc missile bases at North Bay, Ont., but has not decided whether to accept nuclear warheads or get them from the United States after an attack. Diefenbaker indicated Thursday night that a Conservative government would never allow U.S. nuclear warheads on Canadian soil except in wartime.

Young Political 'Pros' Active In Boys State

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A couple of real veterans of the political wars are among a record-breaking total of 1,243 high school juniors who got to work today at the 25th annual Buckeye Boys State on the Ohio University campus here.

The two old-timers at the business are Tom Coleman of Marysville, son of State Democratic Chairman William H. Coleman, and Theodore Celeste, son of Lakewood Mayor Frank Celeste.

Along with the "pros" were two to whom the political furor will probably be a little strange. They are Peter Meigner of Columbus, a 1956 immigrant from Germany, and Rene Blaha of Granville, who arrived in the country in 1960 from Brazil.

The teen-agers arrived Thursday for the nine-day school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion. Besides being registered and divided between the Nationalist and Federalist parties, the boys and election procedures in a talk by R. B. Tharp of Washington Court House.

Tonight John W. Bricker, former U. S. senator and former Ohio governor, will be the featured speaker.

Rural Mail Carrier Accused of Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Plain City, Madison-Union County rural mail carrier has been charged by postal inspectors with misappropriation of postal funds.

Postal inspectors charged Douglas L. Meagle, 30, of Plain City, failed to turn in $188 he had accepted for money orders. Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner William G. Corson, he waived preliminary hearing and was bound to the U. S. District Court under $1,000 bail.

Flight Engineers Study JFK Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Flight engineers debated today whether to bow to President Kennedy's appeal to cancel a strike threat against three major airlines and submit their jet crew job claims to arbitration.

The answer from the Flight Engineers International Association may come later today. Meanwhile, it was uncertain whether there would be a walkout against the three major carriers — Pan American, Eastern and Trans World airlines.

Kennedy sharply criticized the engineers at his news conference Thursday after government-sponsored peace talks that had been going on for nearly two years ended in a complete deadlock and a walkout appeared imminent.

At Kansas City, Chairman H. S. Dietrich of the union's TWA branch said there probably would be no strike on that airline at least before early Saturday morning.

A walkout would idle nearly 60,000 domestic and 20,000 overseas passengers daily.

The dispute has been complicated by a longstanding feud between the engineers and the Air Line Pilots Association for cockpit jobs. When the jets came the pilots succeeded in getting a third pilot put aboard along with the engineer to make up four-man crews. Three-man crews have now been ruled sufficient.

The problem then became which man would be thrown off, a pilot or engineer. A number of White House study groups recommended trimming jet crews to two pilots and a combined pilot-engineer.

The engineers, besides being at odds with the pilots anyway, felt they would be overwhelmed by the more numerous pilots.

Both the pilots and engineers unions belong to the AFL-CIO, but that organization long ago threw up its hands at achieving a "solution" after the engineers rebuffed proposals that they merge with the pilots into one plane operators organization.

The youth, Donald Stewart, 20, terrorized the family of a hardware store operator in nearby Westchester in an effort to obtain ammunition at gunpoint.

Officers said Stewart also wounded a farmer near Westchester after a car the youth was driving went off old U.S. 25 and smashed down a farm gate.

The deputy, Harry McDaniell, was taken to Hamilton's Mercy Hospital with bullet wounds in his hip and arm.

The farmer, Stanley Honerlaw, 40, was taken to Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for treatment of a wound in his right arm. Hospital aides said the bullet apparently broke a bone in his arm.

Deputy McDaniell and his partner, Robert Wright, had driven into Westchester in a hunt for the youth's car after farmer Honerlaw was hurt.

They sought the car near the hardware store of Charles Solsman, 64, and slipped in a back door.

Wright said that when the Stewart said saw the officers, however, he put a revolver to Solsman's head and said he would shoot if the deputies didn't drop their guns.

Stewart exchanged shots with a second group of deputies who arrived to support Wright and McDaniell. Wright said he slugged the youth unconscious while young Stewart's attention was distracted by the second group.

Deputies took the youth to Butler County Jail for questioning in the shooting. There was no immediate indication why he was wanted. The 38 caliber ammunition for his revolver.

In any case, Solsman said, young Stewart picked a poor place to try for .38 caliber cartridges.

Revenue Stamp Theft Is Probed

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Lake County authorities and the Internal Revenue Service have launched an investigation of possible theft and misuse of federal revenue stamps on real estate deeds filed at the county recorder's office.

County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok acknowledged Thursday that an investigation of irregularities was underway, but he declined to elaborate. He said, however, that no county employees were suspected of being involved.

Internal revenue agents from Cleveland also declined to comment.

Stamps reportedly have been removed from older deeds on file in the titles department and placed on deeds being filed currently. Stamps signify the seller of the property has paid the federal tax of $1.10 per $1,000 valuation.

OAS Threatens To Sack Nation

No Patients Hurt,
But Labs Useless

ALGIERS (AP)—Seven plastic bombs heavily damaged three surgical pavilions and the central laboratory of Algiers' vast Mustapha Hospital today in the wake of a Secret Army Organization announcement that it was launching an all-out campaign to lay waste to Algeria.

Hospital officials said not a single person was injured by the blasts. In recent months, after the secret army raided several hospitals, most Moslem patients were evacuated to makeshift clinics.

The hospital said the surgical pavilions and laboratory have been rendered useless.

A group from the Moslem National Liberation Front, the FLN, inspected the sprawling, 2,500-bed hospital late Thursday and announced the Moslems planned to take it over. That made it a prime target for the secret army in its plan to destroy everything that might be useful to the Moslems after independence.

A clandestine radio transmitter announced Thursday night that the secret army's high command had decided to accelerate its scorched earth campaign because it had failed to obtain more concessions for the European settlers from Algeria's future Moslem rulers.

The broadcast ordered all Europeans to leave Algeria. But an earlier secret army broadcast from Oran, the territory's second city in western Algeria, said European residents of western Algeria would regroup in major cities in that area for a last-ditch defense against Algerian independence.

Along with its desperation fight to leave an independent Algeria a waste land, the secret army mounted a new offensive against the French government and President Charles de Gaulle. The government announced the smashing of a new secret army plot to kill de Gaulle — the third in nine months. Widespread arrests of secret army agents in France were reported.

Former French Premier Georges Bidault, in an interview with a Brussels newspaper, indicated the secret army still was fighting to take over France.

Gen. Philippe Gineset, commander of French forces in the Oran area for only two weeks, was shot and gravely wounded by secret army gunmen outside a military hospital chapel in that secret army stronghold. An army doctor walking alongside was killed. They had gone to the chapel to pray at the coffin of a lieutenant colonel assassinated the day before.

Even as the threat of greater destruction was being broadcast, the European terrorists pressed their campaign of scorched earth and murder. They killed four persons Thursday, wounded nine others and set 21 fires in public and private buildings that might be of use to Moslems after a European exodus.

The secret army said it was ordering the European settlers to quit Algeria because the Moslems had refused to give guarantees to the European minority beyond those provided in the March 1958 agreement at Evian between the Nationalists and the French government.

2 Teen-Agers Are Handed Life Terms

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two teen-ager youths were found guilty of first-degree murder today, and each was sentenced to two life terms in the Ohio Penitentiary.

The three - judge panel spared the youths from the electric chair, heeding a prosecution recommendation for mercy.

The double life sentences must be served consecutively by James Sims, 17, and Morton Hollman, 18, others and set 21 fires in public and private buildings that might be of use to Moslems after a European exodus.

A court officials said only a governor's commutation would keep the two from spending the rest of their lives in jail, adding that no persons under a double life sentence had ever been granted a commutation.

In addition, the two must spend the period from Feb. 12 to Feb. 23 each year in solitary confinement. It was during the period from Feb. 12 to 23 that the two youths went on a "crime rampage," the court official said.

Hollman admitted in court that he killed William C. Beasley, 21, during a service station holdup last February and said he was "High" on marijuana and whisky at the time.

Sims, who took part in the hold-up, and Hollman both pleaded guilty to charges of first-degree murder and murder during a holdup.

His death brought the known number of deaths along the wall to 36.

Canada Raps Red Meddling

Khrush Is Accused Of Interference

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker has accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of vengefully meddling in the Canadian election with a charge that Diefenbaker's Conservative government is making preparations for nuclear armament.

With the election of a new Parliament coming up Monday, Diefenbaker said Thursday in a campaign speech Khrushchev "doesn't want this government back because we took a stand on Soviet colonialism that he doesn't like."

Soviet Ambassador A. A. Aroutunian delivered a Kremlin protest Thursday which said if nuclear warheads are located on Canadian territory, the Soviet Union would have to take counter-measures to safeguard its security.

Diefenbaker's government immediately rejected the Soviet note as "inadmissible interference in Canadian affairs."

Diefenbaker's chief opponents unanimously backed him against the Soviets.

Lester B. Pearson, Liberal leader, termed the Soviet statement "arrogant and clumsy" and said it would not affect Canadian attitudes "toward nuclear weapons or toward Soviet imperialism."

T. C. Douglas of the New Democratic party said Khrushchev should know Canadians deplored the "callous and contemptuous" Soviet resumption of nuclear testing last fall.

The Social Credit leader, Robert Thompson, said the Soviet statement was "ill timed and nothing more than Russian interference with a Canadian election."

Canada is building two Bomarc missile bases at North Bay, Ont., but has not decided whether to accept nuclear warheads or get them from the United States after an attack. Diefenbaker indicated Thursday night that a Conservative government would never allow U.S. nuclear warheads on Canadian soil except in wartime.

Young Political 'Pros' Active In Boys State

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A couple of real veterans of the political wars are among a record-breaking total of 1,243 high school juniors who got down to work today at the 25th annual Buckeye Boys State on the Ohio University campus here.

The two old-timers at the business are Tom Coleman of Marysville, son of State Democratic Chairman William H. Coleman, and Theodore Celeste, son of Lakewood Mayor Frank Celeste.

Along with the "pros" were two to whom the political furor will probably be a little strange. They are Peter Meiner of Columbus, a 1956 immigrant from Germany, and Rene Blaha of Granville, who arrived in the country in 1960 from Brazil.

The teen-agers arrived Thursday for the nine-day school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion. Besides being registered and divided between the Nationalist and Federalist parties, the boys were initiated into political affairs and election procedures in a talk by R. B. Tharp of Washington Court House.

Tonight John W. Bricker, former U. S. senator and former Ohio governor, will be the featured speaker.

Rural Mail Carrier Accused of Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Plain City, Madison-Union County rural mail carrier has been charged by postal inspectors with misappropriation of postal funds.

Postal inspectors charged Douglas L. Meaige, 30, of Plain City, failed to turn in $188 he had accepted for money orders. Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner William G. Corson, he waived preliminary hearing and was bound to the U. S. District Court under $1,000 bond.

Flight Engineers Study JFK Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flight engineers debated today whether to bow to President Kennedy's appeal by a longstanding feud between the engineers and the Air Line Pilots Association for cockpit jobs.

When the jets came the pilots succeeded in getting a third pilot put aboard along with the engineer to make up four-man crews. Three-man crews have now been ruled sufficient.

The problem then became which man would be thrown off, a pilot or engineer. A number of White House study groups recommended trimming jet crews to two pilots and a combined pilot-engineer. The engineers, besides being at odds with the pilots anyway, felt they would be overwhelmed by the more numerous pilots.

Both the pilots and engineers unions belong to the AFL-CIO, but that organization long ago threw up its hands at achieving a "solution" after the engineers rebuffed proposals that they merge with the pilots into one plane operators organization.

Hamilton Deputy, Farmer Wounded by Youthful Thug

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies walked into a holdup early today and one was shot and wounded before the other was able to club a gun-wielding youth unconscious.

Deputies said the youth, Donald Stewart, 20, terrorized the family of a hardware store operator in nearby Westchester in an effort to obtain ammunition at gunpoint.

Officers said Stewart also wounded a farmer near Westchester after a car the youth was driving went off old U.S. 25 and smashed down a farm gate.

The deputy, Harry McDaniel, was taken to Hamilton's Mercy Hospital with bullet wounds in his hip and arm.

The farmer, Stanley Honerlaw, 40, was taken to Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for treatment of a wound in his right arm. Hospital aides said the bullet apparently broke a bone in his arm.

Deputy McDaniel and his partner, Robert Wright, had driven into Westchester in a hunt for the youth's car after farmer Honerlaw was hurt.

They spotted the car near the hardware store of Charles Solsman, 64, and slipped in a back door.

Wright said that when the Stewart youth saw the officers, however, he put a revolver to Solsman's head and said he would shoot if the deputies didn't drop their guns.

Stewart exchanged shots with a second group of deputies who arrived to support Wright and McDaniel. Wright said he slugged the youth unconscious while young Stewart's attention was distracted by the second group.

Deputies took the youth to Butler County Jail for questioning in the shooting. There was no immediate indication why he wanted the .38 caliber ammunition for his revolver.

In any case, Solsman said, young Stewart picked a poor place to try for .38 caliber cartridges.

Revenue Stamp Theft Is Probed

PAINEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Lake County authorities and the Internal Revenue Service have launched an investigation of possible theft and misuse of federal revenue stamps on real estate deeds filed at the county recorder's office.

County Prosecutor Fred V. Skok acknowledged Thursday that an investigation of irregularities was underway, but he declined to elaborate. He said, however, that no county employees were suspected of being involved.

Internal revenue agents from Cleveland also declined to comment.

Stamps reportedly have been removed from older deeds on file in the titles department and placed on deeds being filed currently. Stamps signify the seller of the property has paid the federal tax of $1.10 per $1,000 valuation.

First China Refugees To Sail for Formosa

HONG KONG (AP)—A group of 200 refugees from Communist China will leave for Formosa within two weeks, a welfare official said today.

Robert Der, chairman of a refugee relief committee, said the refugees will be resettled in the southern and eastern parts of Formosa.

He said only about 5,000 of the estimated 20,000 refugees who slipped into Hong Kong in May are willing to go to Formosa.

OAS Threatens To Sack Nation

No Patients Hurt, But Labs Useless

ALGIERS (AP)—Seven plastic bombs heavily damaged three surgical pavilions and the central laboratory of Algiers' vast Mustapha Hospital today in the wake of a Secret Army Organization announcement that it was launching an all-out campaign to lay waste to Algeria.

Hospital officials said not a single person was injured by the blasts. In recent months, after the secret army raided several hospitals, most Moslem patients were evacuated to makeshift clinics.

The hospital said the surgical pavilions and laboratory have been rendered useless.

A group from the Moslem National Liberation Front, the FLN, inspected the sprawling, 2,500-bed hospital late Thursday and announced the Moslems planned to take it over. That made it a prime target for the secret army in its plan to destroy everything that might be useful to the Moslems after independence.

A clandestine radio transmitter announced Thursday night that the secret army's high command had decided to accelerate its scorched earth campaign because it had failed to obtain more concessions for the European settlers from Algeria's future Moslem rulers.

The broadcast ordered all Europeans to leave Algeria. But an earlier secret army broadcast from Oran, the territory's second city in western Algeria, said European residents of western Algeria would regroup in major cities in that area for a last-ditch defense against Algerian independence.

Along with its desperation fight to leave an independent Algeria a waste land, the secret army mounted a new offensive against the French government and President Charles de Gaulle. The government announced the smashing of a new secret army plot to kill De Gaulle — the third in nine months. Widespread arrests of secret army agents in France were reported.

Former French Premier Georges Bidault, in an interview with a Brussels newspaper, indicated the secret army still was fighting to take over France.

Gen. Philippe Ginetet, commander of French forces in the Oran area for only two weeks, was shot and gravely wounded by secret army gunmen outside a military hospital chapel in that secret army stronghold. An army doctor walking alongside was killed. They had gone to the chapel to pray at the coffin of a lieutenant colonel assassinated the day before.

Even as the threat of greater destruction was being broadcast, the European terrorists pressed their campaign of scorched earth and murder. They killed four persons Thursday, wounded nine others and set 21 fires in public and private buildings that might be of use to Moslems after a European exodus.

The secret army said it was ordering the European settlers to quit Algeria because the Moslems had refused to give guarantees to the European minority beyond those provided in the March 18 agreement at Evian between the Nationalists and the French government.

Akron Funeral Home Owner Faces Charges

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The operator of a funeral home where the embalmed bodies of nine Negro infants lay unburied for months was charged by police today with falsifying burial certificates and obtaining money under false pretenses.

Clarence Irby, 36, was named in five misdemeanor charges filed by Police Sgt. Jack Carlton who led the investigation after the infants' bodies were found June 5 in a hallway of a funeral home Irby operated.

Irby, who lived in an apartment upstairs, has been quoted by police as saying he embalmed the bodies of the babies, all stillborn or only a few days old. But, Irby said, he didn't know who put them in the small passageway between the funeral home and a garage. All of the bodies had been in the home since January, and one was that of a child who died in July 1959, police said.

Maximum penalty on the charges against Irby is 90 days in jail for each charge, plus fines of $100 for charges of falsifying a burial certificate and of $300 for obtaining money under false pretenses. He is accused of falsifying three certificates and taking $55 under false pretenses from Mr. and Mrs. Allen Salter and $45 from Sally M. Sumler.

Jury To Set Damages in Flooding Case

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer has issued an opinion concerning the case, Sark vs Charles Morris et al (the County Commissioners).

He stated that Arthur and Dolly M. Sark, of Walnut Twp. were entitled to damages to their property as a result of flooding of their land caused by the erection of a bridge over Little Walnut Creek in 1954.

A jury will be summoned to decide the extent of the damages to be awarded.

Judge Ammer ruled that although the County was not liable for the actions of county officials in the case involved the flooding constituted a continuing trespass. Sark claimed the flooding made the land involved, about 17 acres, virtually useless. In his suit, filed Feb. 14, he had asked $8,500.

Chemical Firm Chief Denies Collusion in Estes Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of Commercial Solvents Corp. termed as preposterous and unfair today a charge that there was three-way collusion involving his company, Billie Sol Estes, and the Department of Agriculture.

Company President Maynard C. Wheeler said the charge "is utterly without foundation" and that "even a cursory inquiry into the matter would have shown this."

The charge was made Thursday by Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., a member of the House subcommittee investigating Estes' dealings in storage of government-owned surplus grain.

Commercial Solvents loaned Estes money which he used to go into the grain storage business. As security, Estes assigned to the firm all government grain storage payments he was to receive.

Bass charged that Estes did not get any grain storage contracts until the assignment had been completed, and referred to the arrangement as a "triangle of interest."

Wheeler replied with a statement as the hearings resumed today.

Wheeler said Estes got his first storage contract March 9, 1959, and the assignment of the payments to Commercial Solvents was not mailed to the department until April 1. It was approved at the Dallas, Tex., office April 2, he said.

Wheeler and other top officials of the company were appearing for the third day.

There were indications that they would be followed next week by two key figures in the Estes tangle who were Agriculture Department officials under the Eisenhower administration and left to become directors of Commercial Solvents.

These are James A. McConnell and Walter C. Berger. Berger succeeded McConnell as head of the Commodity Credit Corp., the government organization that buys and stores surplus grain. Berger held that position in 1958 and 1959 when Estes got into the grain storage business with the help of a loan from Commercial Solvents.

As security for his loans from Commercial Solvents, Estes assigned all his government grain storage payments to the company. They collected more than $7 million before Estes went broke, still owing the company $5.7 million.

Why the market has kept dropping without a shove by discouraging developments was a baffling question on Wall Street.

"Words, excuses, reasons are not going to help," said a broker. "They never do when you have emotion dominating the Stock Market."

Many analysts have been putting part of the blame on what they term the Kennedy Administration's anti-business attitude, since it forced the steel industry to rescind a price increase.

One analyst, L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co., offered a different view. He said:

"Many people seem to think someone is personally responsible for what has happened in the market recently. The fact is that this decline stems from the abuse of common stocks by almost everyone in the period of over-speculation."

The New York Stock Exchange, after an examination of market activity on the hectic down-and-up days of May 28, 29 and 31, has come up with these conclusions:

To a large degree the heavy decline on Monday, May 28 came on sales by the public of long-term investments. Sales by smaller investors followed Tuesday morning.

Larger investors, generally buying shares of well known companies, helped ignite the price advance Tuesday afternoon.

Akron Funeral Home Owner Faces Charges

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The operator of a funeral home where the embalmed bodies of nine Negro infants lay unburied for months was charged by police today with falsifying burial certificates and obtaining money under false pretenses.

Clarence Irby, 36, was named in five misdemeanor charges filed by Police Sgt. Jack Carlton who led the investigation after the infants' bodies were found June 5 in a hallway of a funeral home Irby operated.

Irby, who lived in an apartment upstairs, has been quoted by police as saying he embalmed the bodies of the babies, all stillborn or only a few days old. But, Irby said, he didn't know who put them in the small passageway between the funeral home and a garage. All of the bodies had been in the home since January, and one was that of a child who died in July 1959, police said.

Maximum penalty on the charges against Irby is 90 days in jail for each charge, plus fines of $100 for charges of falsifying a burial certificate and of $300 for obtaining money under false pretenses. He is accused of falsifying three certificates and taking $55 under false pretenses from Mr. and Mrs. Allen Salter and $45 from Sally M. Sumler.

Jury To Set Damages in Flooding Case

Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer has issued an opinion concerning the case, Sark vs Charles Morris et al (the County Commissioners).

He stated that Arthur and Dolly M. Sark, of Walnut Twp. were entitled to damages to their property as a result of flooding of their land caused by the erection of a bridge over Little Walnut Creek in 1954.

A jury will be summoned to decide the extent of the damages to be awarded.

Judge Ammer ruled that although the County was not liable for the actions of county officials in the case involved the flooding constituted a continuing trespass.

Sark claimed the flooding made the land involved, about 17 acres, virtually useless. In his suit, filed Feb. 14, he had asked $8,500.

Chemical Firm Chief Denies Collusion in Estes Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of Commercial Solvents Corp. termed as preposterous and unfair today a charge that there was three-way collusion involving his company, Billie Sol Estes, and the Department of Agriculture.

Company President Maynard C. Wheeler said the charge "is utterly without foundation" and that "even a cursory inquiry into the matter would have shown this."

The charge was made Thursday by Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., a member of the House subcommittee investigating Estes' dealings in storage of government-owned surplus grain.

Commercial Solvents loaned Estes money which he used to go into the grain storage business. As security, Estes assigned to the firm all government grain storage payments he was to receive.

Bass charged that Estes did not get any grain storage contracts until the assignment had been completed, and referred to the arrangement as a "triangle of interest."

Wheeler replied with a statement as the hearings resumed today.

Wheeler said Estes got his first storage contract March 9, 1959, and the assignment of the payments to Commercial Solvents was not mailed to the department until April 1. It was approved at the Dallas, Tex., office April 2, he said.

Wheeler and other top officials of the company were appearing for the third day.

There were indications that they would be followed next week by two key figures in the Estes tangle who were Agriculture Department officials under the Eisenhower administration and left to become directors of Commercial Solvents.

These are James A. McConnell and Walter C. Berger. Berger succeeded McConnell as head of the Commodity Credit Corp., the government organization that buys and stores surplus grain. Berger held that position in 1958 and 1959 when Estes got into the grain storage business with the help of a loan from Commercial Solvents.

As security for his loans from Commercial Solvents, Estes assigned all his government grain storage payments to the company. They collected more than $7 million before Estes went broke, still owing the company $5.7 million.

Canadian Poll Slated Monday

2 Parties Similar To Those in U.S.

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian and U.S. politics, though operating in widely different systems, bear this resemblance: Each has two major parties.

Some Canadians, with dubious exactitude, compare the currently ruling Conservative party to the Republicans and the opposition Liberal party to the Democrats.

The situation differs from that of the United States in that two minor parties are having an impact on the campaign for next Monday's parliamentary election. These are the New Democratic party, which has a Socialist base, and the Social Credit party—a rightist group which calls all other parties socialist.

The minor parties are claiming a large number of seats, and even in the major camps there is a tendency to concede them 12 to 20 seats of the 265 in Parliament. Thus, if the two big parties run close, as now appears possible, there could be a minority government, as in 1957.

Lester B. Pearson, the Liberal leader, told an election rally his party offers the only alternative the voters have to the present government.

"A vote for any other party is a vote for a party which cannot form a government," he said.

A few days later, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, the Conservative leader, said voters would be wasted on New Democratic or Social Credit candidates.

"Only a sprinkling will be elected," he went on. "They have no hope."

Those who study the campaign lean to the feeling that Diefenbaker's government will be returned but with far less than the 208 seats it won in 1958. Conservative strategists say they can count more than the 133 seats needed for a majority. The Liberals talk in similar figures. Neither is quite sure where the minor parties will drain off votes.

NEW YORK (AP)—"They (the public) don't know if it's bad music or a new approach," said Igor Stravinsky of his work in an epilogue to his new dance drama Thursday night.

This viewer, whose musical tastes run toward Jerome Kern and Richard Rodgers, would not presume to judge the merits of year-old maestro's latest—and, he said, last—work. I do know that I snapped off the set. And I still don't understand the mixture of soaring religious type poetry and comedy doggerel with which the familiar Bible story was retold against the dance background.

The dancers wore masks and did more writhing than dancing and leaping. The music was full of dissonances and sharp sounds.

CBS, reputed to have spent almost $200,000 on the production, may feel it made the culture catch of the year with the world premiere of the great composer's work. Unhappily, I was both bored and bewildered during most of it. The most interesting part to me was the last 20 minutes of the hour special when, the musical event concluded, there was a biographical treatment of Stravinsky and his collaborator, choreographer George Balanchine. If this be a confession of lowbrowism, make the most of it.

C&O Starts Huge Michigan Coal Haul

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway has begun supplying coal from West Virginia mines to a Michigan utility plant that eventually may use a million tons a year.

The railroad said today first rail shipments moved this week to the James H. Campbell generating plant of Consumers Power Co. at West Olive, Mich. to start the plant's stockpile. Initially the plant will consume a half million tons a year, getting shipments of 1,500 tons on five or six days each week, the C&O said.

Airliner Crash Still Mystery

No Tieup Seen by CAB To Ex-Convict 'Victim'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1959 mystery crash in the Gulf of Mexico of an airliner carrying 42 persons — and a "victim" who turned up alive — was stamped "cause unknown" today by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board said it could find no relationship between the National Airlines Douglas DC7B disappearance and the activities of Robert Vernon Spears, an ex-convict who had been listed among the dead but was later found alive and arrested by FBI agents in a Phoenix, Ariz., motel.

The flight vanished in the early morning darkness over the Gulf Nov. 16, 1959. It was bound from Miami, Fla., to New Orleans, La. Spears was listed as a passenger, but when he was located he told the FBI he had given his ticket and place aboard the plane to another man at Tampa, Fla.

The other man, identified as William Allen Taylor of Tampa, hasn't been seen since.

Many theories—all unproved—were advanced during investigations, including that the plane may have been sabotaged and that Spears had someone take his place on the plane so that Spears' wife could collect on a large insurance policy.

Spears was sent to prison for unlawful possession of Taylor's automobile.

The CAB acknowledged that as far as the FBI is concerned the case still is not closed.

The board said "unknown cause" was a relatively rare end

'Hoss' of 'Bonanza' Called 260 Pounds Unabashed Bulk

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Amid a nation of calorie-counters, "Bonanza's" Dan Blocker stands out like a monument. He's 260 pounds of unabashed bulk.

None of that safflower oil and gluten bread for Dan. Why should he ruin his mealticket?

Yet the Texan was lunching on cottage cheese salad and gelatin. "Picked up eight pounds on P.A.'s," he explained, referring to personal appearances, any television star's bread and butter.

"Trouble with those tours is everybody wants to feed you. They give you a big breakfast and a big lunch and then a big dinner, thinking they're doing you a favor. You feel like a heel not to eat."

Dan admitted he would probably take off 50 pounds if he gave up the beer and booze. But he hasn't yet found enough reason. And he'd be in danger of destroying the image of the big, blustery Hoss Cartwright on NBC's Sunday night Western.

Health problems? He's got none. Even got a top rating in an insurance physical exam recently.

"Can hardly remember when I didn't weigh at least 200 pounds," he said. "Never worried me, though my folks thought about it, I guess. Once when I was about 10 and weighed 200, they put me in for one of its investigations. It has determined the probable cause in 94 per cent of the fatal airliner accidents it has proved over 23 years.

But the CAB said the analysis of the Gulf crash rests almost entirely upon circumstantial evidence because the wreckage still lies on the bottom of the Gulf.

the car and took me to a pediatrician in Lubbock, Texas.

"He examined me and said, 'There's nothing wrong with this boy; he's just going to be a big son of a gun.'"

The Army gave him the same bill of health, even though at 310 pounds he was well over the usual limit. "We'll make an exception in your case," said the doctor, and Dan replied, "thanks a bunch."

"Bonanza" is now ending its third and best season, and the company is already grinding out a fourth. Dan figures it could go another year, perhaps two at the most.

Tax Collections Erratic Says State Treasurer

A week by week analysis of the sales tax receipts since the first of the year show that collections have been erratic with the change from a prepaid to a postpaid system, according to a report from the office of Joseph T. Ferguson, treasurer of the state of Ohio.

As a result, Ferguson said, it is difficult to estimate the sales tax revenue on a weekly basis.

Only $2,187.60 was collected in Pickaway County for the week ending June 9 this year. For the week ending June 10, 1961 $7,119.36 was collected.

Tax monies for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1961 total $214,427.91. For the same period a year ago $247,544.53 was collected. Motor vehicle tax collections for

This viewer, whose musical tastes run toward Jerome Kern and Richard Rodgers, does not presume to judge the merits of year-old maestro's latest—and, he said, last—work. I do know that I wasn't humming the tunes when I snapped off the set. And I still don't understand the mixture of soaring religious type poetry and comedy doggerel with which the familiar Bible story was retold against the dance background.

The dancers wore masks and did more writhing than dancing and leaping. The music was full of dissonances and sharp sounds. CBS, reputed to have spent almost $200,000 on the production, may feel it made the culture catch of the year with the world premiere of the great composer's work. Unhappily, I was both bored and bewildered during most of it. The most interesting part to me was the last 20 minutes of the hour special when the musical event concluded, there was a biographical treatment of Stravinsky and his collaborator, choreographer George Balanchine. If this be a confession of lowbrowism, make the most of it.

C&O Starts Huge Michigan Coal Haul

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway has begun supplying coal from West Virginia mines to a Michigan utility plant that eventually may use a million tons a year.

The railroad said today first rail shipments moved this week to the James H. Campbell generating plant of Consumers Power Co. at West Olive, Mich. to start the plant's stockpile. Initially the plant will consume a half million tons a year, getting shipments of 1,500 tons on five or six days each week, the C&O said.

Airliner Crash Still Mystery

No Tieup Seen by CAB To Ex-Convict 'Victim'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1959 mystery crash in the Gulf of Mexico of an airliner carrying 42 persons — and a "victim" who turned up alive — was stamped "cause unknown" today by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board said it could find no relationship between the National Airlines Douglas DCTB disappearance and the activities of Robert Vernon Spears, an ex-convict who had been listed among the dead but was later found alive and arrested by FBI agents in a Phoenix, Ariz., motel.

The flight vanished in the early-morning darkness over the Gulf Nov. 16, 1959. It was bound from Miami, Fla., to New Orleans, La. Spears was listed as a passenger, but when he was located he told the FBI he had given his ticket and place aboard the plane to another man at Tampa, Fla.

The other man, identified as William Allen Taylor of Tampa, hasn't been seen since.

Many theories—all unproved—were advanced during investigations, including that the plane may have been sabotaged and that Spears had someone take his place on the plane so that Spears' wife could collect on a large insurance policy.

Spears was sent to prison for unlawful possession of Taylor's automobile.

The CAB acknowledged that as far as the FBI is concerned the case still is not closed.

The board said "unknown cause" was a relatively rare end

'Hoss' of 'Bonanza' Called 260 Pounds Unabashed Bulk

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Amid a nation of calorie-counters, "Bonanza's" Dan Blocker stands out like a monument. He's 260 pounds of unabashed bulk.

None of that safflower oil and gluten bread for Dan. Why should he ruin his meatloaf?

Yet the Texan was lunching on cottage cheese salad and gelatin. "Picked up eight pounds on P.A.'s," he explained, referring to personal appearances, any television star's bread and butter.

"Trouble with those tours is everybody wants to feed you. They give you a big breakfast and a big lunch and then a big dinner, thinking they're doing you a favor. You feel like a heel not to eat."

Dan admitted he would probably take off 50 pounds if he gave up the beer and booze. But he hasn't yet found enough reason. And he'd be in danger of destroying the image of the big, blustery Hoss Cartwright on NBC's Sunday night Western.

Health problems? He's got none. Even got a top rating in an insurance physical exam recently.

"Can hardly remember when I didn't weigh at least 200 pounds," he said. "Never worried me, though my folks thought about it, I guess. Once when I was about 10 and weighed 200, they put me in for one of its investigations. It has determined the probable cause in 94 per cent of the fatal airliner accidents it has proved over 23 years.

But the CAB said the analysis of the Gulf crash rests almost entirely upon circumstantial evidence because the wreckage still lies on the bottom of the Gulf.

the car and took me to a pediatrician in Lubbock, Texas. "He examined me and said, 'There's nothing wrong with this boy; he's just going to be a big son of a gun.'"

The Army gave him the same bill of health, even though at 310 pounds he was well over the usual limit. "We'll make an exception in your case," said the doctor, and Dan replied, "thanks a bunch."

"Bonanza" is now ending its third and best season, and the company is already grinding out a fourth. Dan figures it could go another year, perhaps two at the most.

Tax Collections Erratic Says State Treasurer

A week by week analysis of the sales tax receipts since the first of the year show that collections have been erratic with the change from a prepaid to a postpaid system, according to a report from the office of Joseph T. Ferguson, treasurer of the state of Ohio.

As a result, Ferguson said, it is difficult to estimate the sales tax revenue on a weekly basis.

Only $2,187.60 was collected in Pickaway County for the week ending June 9 this year. For the week ending June 10, 1961 $7,119.36 was collected.

Tax monies for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1961 total $214,427.91. For the same period a year ago $247,544.53 was collected. Motor vehicle tax collections for

2 Small Boys Die In Old Refrigerator

CLEVELAND (AP)—The bodies of two small boys who had been missing since Wednesday were found Thursday in an abandoned refrigerator on East 63rd Street.

Police said they were told the boys, Robert Ford, 7, and Melroy Craver, 6, had been missing since late Wednesday afternoon. The bodies were found in a refrigerator in a garage at the rear of a home near where the boys lived.

Kids Open to Suggestions, Too

Parents who worry about the dating habits of their offspring may have received a jolt by the findings of two independent researchers. They are that children who begin dating at an early age usually postpone steady dating for a few years and eventually make better mates than their brothers and sisters who do not begin dating until their late teens.

Developing dating habits as he matures seems to be the best approach for the adolescent, and the age at which to begin dating depends upon the maturity of the individual and his personal preferences.

Dr. Edward Wilkes of University Hospital, N. Y., and Dr. Samuel Lowrie of Bowling Green University, O., reached similar conclusions on this subject in separate studies which investigated the dating habits of youngsters in a half dozen states.

And what does this mean to Mom and Dad, who probably worry more about the early years of adolescent dating than any other facet of child rearing? Apparently they should not regard it as strange if Bill or Sis dislikes the other sex until senior high school, or wants to begin dating when just past the twelfth birthday.

It means association of mixed groups because of age should not be prohibited, but activities of the early years should be supervised. And the researchers found the one ingredient most essential to parental-child relationships during the adolescent period to be non-interference with the independence of every teenager thrives upon.

Quite different from absolute prohibition is a friendly talk about the customs and habits of dating and each individual's responsibilities to each other member of society. In short, parents should remember what each of them once knew very vividly but tend to forget with the passage of years:

Children are people, too, and darned if they don't respond to a reasonable suggestion just as readily as the fully mature do.

For Bleeding Hearts

Havana Radio makes an illuminating contribution to the current discussion concerning whether the United States ought to send food to Red China.

Fidel Castro's government announces that the supposedly starving Red Chinese have just provided Cuba with 24 million pounds of rice. The Havana broadcast says a Chinese ship bearing the rice has just arrived at the Cuban port of Cienfuegos.

Those who advocate the shipment of American food to China usually do so on humanitarian grounds. They point out that the United States has a food surplus.

In the name of mercy and charity they call for the distribution of some of this surplus food to the Chinese people.

A direct and brutal rebuttal is forthcoming from the Havana Radio. Any food sent would be used for whatever purposes the Peiping regime saw fit. Some of it might be transhipped directly to other communist satellites.

In any case, it ought to be apparent that whatever additional food the United States made available would serve only to give the Peiping regime more latitude in using its own supplies elsewhere.

Curious American Problem

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A man is known by the footprints he leaves in the sands of time.

But deeds are not the only measure of identity. What you haven't done tells you you are in this world just as surely as what you did do.

For example: I am the fellow who at 51 never has—

Won more than $5 on a horse race.

Gone scuba diving.

Shaken hands with a Republican president born east of the Mississippi River.

Kissed a great-great-grandmother.

Married a red-haired girl, but did marry a brunette and a blonde, who turned out to be the same girl.

Met a one-armed paperhanger with the itch.

Read a novel by Leo Tolstoy.

Ridden on the back of a fire truck.

Been given a ticket for jaywalking, or bought a ticket to a policeman's ball.

Known a man who carried his Phi Beta Kappa key in his pocket.

Borrowed money from a millionaire, or known one who'd lend me any.

Played handball, squash, water polo or lacrosse.

Used snuff or learned to like cigarettes.

Gone grouse shooting with a king, or danced with a queen or princess.

Heard a defeated politician admit he had lost in a clean election.

Slept where George Washington never did—in the White House.

Dared to talk back to a woman who muscled in ahead of me at the checkout counter in a supermarket.

Seen a bank robbery or a holdup in progress.

Saved an old lady from a burning building.

Been given a gold watch for devoted service to the organization.

Now you know who I am. Who are you? Just tell me enough things you haven't done, and I can pick you out from any other human being who ever lived.

The chief difference in the French plan and the planning used until now in the United States seems to be, as the bank puts it:

"In France, although all groups are consulted, government clearly dominates the setting of specific targets."

In the United States the current debate over planning is shaping up along these lines—"whether there should be one Plan formulated under the leadership of official authority, or many plans made for their own affairs by the countless individuals, companies, organizations, and various levels of government that make up the country's economic whole."

Most top business executives are instinctively against the rigidity of centralized planning and in favor of the American historical idea of a freely functioning market economy—letting the consumers be the final judge.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

RUDY VALLEE tells about a drunk who entered a saloon and announced, "I just cut off my finger." "Go on," jeered the bartender, "that's no finger you're holding up there. That's a half-burned cigar." Obviously confused, the drunk threw away the cigar butt and reckoned, "I must have smoked my finger."

A distinguished novelist was complaining at the Coffee House the other evening that his wife had been driving him batty for ten years and more. "Why don't you give her the air?" asked a sympathizer. "I can't," mourned the novelist. "She's the only typist I know who can read my damn handwriting."

A new patient of Psychoanalyst Schnickelfritz knew when being told the original source of his insecurity. "It all began when I was a Boy Scout," he told the good Dr. S., as he stretched out on the couch. "The little old lady I was helping across the street got run over by a truck."

Satchel Page, asked the secret of his ability to pitch big-league caliber baseball at the age of fifty-five (at least) explains, "When I works, I works easy. When I sits, I sits loose. And when I worries—I sleeps!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

"That many men manage to survive the 40's is largely a matter of luck."

So begins Dr. Kenneth C. Hutchins' delightful book, "How Not to Kill Your Husband" (Hawthorn Books, 1962) which is a combination of humor and horse sense aimed at wives.

Proper husbandcare can relieve pressure and prevent heart attacks, high blood pressure and stroke, Dr. Hutchins tells how.

Hubby doesn't need discipline. Persuade, flatter, entice—but never command.

Wake him early enough for a leisurely breakfast with time to catch his bus or train. That daily dash to make the train can break your husband. He'll fuss and fume all day.

Don't keep handing him lighted cigarettes when he doesn't ask. A few smokes are relaxing. What he doesn't want, he doesn't get! Leave his cocktail glass empty, too. A wee nip is fine, "but stewed is for the kitchen."

Give him affection instead of heavy meals. You'll satisfy both appetites every night no nag.

Partying every night can rapidly wear him out. After a tough day he needs to relax—at home. You'll wind up with more parties in the long run when he lives longer!

Don't make him your self-appointed do-it-yourself handyman. He can mow the lawn or putter around the garden, but have a heart when there's heavy work to be done. He has one, too.

Don't cut him down to size when he seems foolish. The less you criticize, the better. And never in public!

If you must have the last word, he may choke on it—with rage. Reason gently; perhaps tomorrow's a better time.

Don't be a back-seat driver. He's already over-driven. The husband you save may be your own.

Wives can learn and laugh with Dr. Hutchins. Incidentally, husbands aren't forbidden to read the book either.

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Slogans Will Not Suffice

By George Sokolsky

Richard Nixon's victory in the California primaries keeps him in the frame of Republican candidates for President. He has one more hurdle: the general election in which he must defeat Pat Brown. Should he defeat Governor Brown, he will undoubtedly be the Republican candidate for President. Should he be defeated by Governor Brown, he will be out of the picture altogether.

Should Nixon remain a candidate for the Presidency, he will undoubtedly be nominated. His only serious opponent could be Nelson Rockefeller who is no longer as potent a factor in the affairs of the Party as he was a year ago. He seems to be fading away as a political force, should Nixon fail in California, the Rockefeller effort may revive.

Both Nixon and Rockefeller may go slow in seeking the nomination in 1964, expecting that President Kennedy will get a second term. Their objective will be to see if President Kennedy falls on his face politically before they commit themselves irrevocably. Each is young enough to wait until 1968 without damage.

The Republican Party is now at the stage when it can no longer opportunistically hope that the Kennedy Administration will slip. Thus far, the Republicans have brought two charges against the Kennedys:

1. That a dynasty is being established;

2. That the Executive is seeking more power than the Constitution provides for.

Point one is meaningless. A dynasty would mean that the succession to the Presidency would be by a process of birth. In a word, John, an infant, would be expected to succeed his father dynastically, probably with a regent. What those who refer to as a dynasty is altogether something different. They want to make an issue that there are too many Kennedys in the Administration. Let us look at the facts: before he was elected President, Jack was a United States Senator. Before Jack was elected President, Robert was counsel to a Congressional Committee. Both have seen long service in government. The only additional Kennedy relative now in the government is Sargent Shriver, head of the Peace Corps. Ted Kennedy is seeking the Senatorship from Massachusetts and may or may not be elected. As the record stands at the moment only one has been added, namely Shriver.

Point two, most of the additional powers came to the Presidency during Franklin D. Roosevelt's Presidency. The issue that has arisen in the Kennedy Administration is one of stand-by powers.

If we are realistic about the Cold War and the prospect of our economic defeat, largely due to over-production and over-pricing ourselves in world markets, it may be necessary to give the President stand-by powers. This is a moot question over which there should be an intelligent debate. If there were no war situation, the expansion of Executive authority could not be tolerated. We face an attack on our economy by both Soviet Russia and the Common Market. The President must not only be vigilant, but must be able to act immediately.

On these two issues the Republicans cannot fight a campaign. On the issue of foreign aid, foreign trade, the tariff and the relationship of domestic costs to international prices the opposition Party can raise an issue and fight hard.

The next three years will be bitter ones in American history. This is no era of good feeling. It is a crucial period that will have to deal with the accumulated errors of 30 years and partisan feeling will ride high.

During such an historical era, men with small ideas and without courage will be hurt politically. We are moving into an era more like that which faced Andrew Jackson rather than that which faced James Madison. Out of it will come a changed America and the period between 1964 and 1968, no matter who is President, will be one of the sharpest in American history because there can be no waiting for decisions too long.

This then requires keen thinking in the opposition. Those who like to play politics by polls, who keep their ears to the ground, will not serve. The opposition to the Kennedy Administration must be in the hands of a prophet. Will it be Richard Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller or Barry Goldwater?

After the 1962 Congressional campaign the Republicans must be ready with a program. Slogans and imprecations will not do.

COMMUNISTS REPORT ON AMERICANS—The Pyongyang radio reported from North Korea that Pfc. Larry A. Abshier (left), 38, whose father lives in Garfield Heights, O., a Cleveland suburb, defected to Communist North Korea because of his "humiliating life" in the Army. The clandestine radio of the Viet Cong guerrilla movement in Viet Nam broadcast the text of a letter it said was written by SP/4 George Fryett (right), American soldier who disappeared while riding a bicycle north of Saigon last December. The broadcast said Fryett had pleaded guilty to "crimes" against the Vietnamese people.

Presbyterian Women Hold Quarterly Meet at Church

The quarterly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Presbyterian Church was held recently in the church social rooms with Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, president, presiding.

Circle A was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. J. M. Hedges, circle chairman, presented the devotionals. Mrs. Bishop Given, secretary, read the revised by-laws of the organization, prepared by a committee composed of Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. Robert Adkins and Mrs. Beryl Stevenson. They were accepted as read.

It was announced that Circle B will have charge of the program at the all-quarterly meeting September 14, at which time the nominating committee will present the slate of officers for the next year.

Mrs. Wayne K. Smith, chairman of the Board of National Missions, introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Ralph Starkey, Pickaway County Juvenile Probation officer.

Mr. Starkey presented a group of slides which were taken by him in area homes where children are living without adequate food, clothing and shelter. He pointed out that while children from these areas constitute a portion of the county's delinquency problem, they are by no means the largest portion.

Children who are given everything they want, who receive no spiritual training, who are never corrected and live in an atmosphere of constant quarreling with parents who have no interest in the wholesome development of their minds are prime candidates for an appearance in juvenile court. Starkey said, 65 per cent of the county's delinquent children have had no religious training. Part of the probationary procedure includes mandatory weekly attendance at Sunday School or Church.

Mr. Starkey concluded his talk by saying that families showing affection for each other and love and respect for God are those in which delinquency will not pose a problem.

Refreshments were served by Circle A following a question and answer period.

Solaqua Garden Unit Hosts All-County Garden Event

The Solaqua Garden Club, Ashville, was hostess to all garden clubs in Pickaway County for a Rose Breakfast and Flower Show Wednesday at the Robtown EUB Parish House.

Breakfast was served from long tables beautifully decorated with centerpieces of roses and other garden flowers.

A program was presented following the breakfast. Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president of the Solaqua Garden Club, gave the welcome, followed by the pledge to the flag given by Miss Judy Huston.

Miss Sally Hines, a piano student of Mrs. Leon Van Vleet, presented a medley of three numbers, "April Showers" by Silvers, "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Depden and "Old Fashioned Garden" by Cole Porter. An original poem "Grandma's Garden" was read by Mrs. Howard Koch. A vocal solo, "There is No Unbelief" was given by Mrs. Cecil Ward accompanied by Miss Hines. Mrs. Homer Peters gave two recitations "The Little House Out Back" and "Pa Catches a Chicken". Patty and Jay Welch presented a duet accompanied by Joy Welch. The program was closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Committee members who were responsible for the success of the meeting were: Mrs. Harry Trump and Mrs. Paul Stout, registration; Mrs. Charles Huston, program; Mrs. James Hott, Mrs. L. C. Schiff and Mrs. Lee Downs, flower show; Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Henry Hansen, refreshments; assisted by all the members of the club. Mrs. Howard Koch and Mrs. Glenn Rinehart were in charge of the bazaar which was held in conjunction with the affair.

The flower show was beautiful and quite successful despite the scarcity of flowers. Results are as follows: Specimens — Best Red Rose; first, Mrs. Turney Pontious; second, Mrs. C. W. Hedges; third, Mrs. John Koch; honorable mention, Mrs. Willard Barch. Best pink rose; first, Mrs. Turney Pontious; second, Mrs. C. W. Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Accept It, Mom!

DEAR ABBY: Last night our 19-year-old daughter called us from over the state line and told us she was married. It is OK for a girl her age to be married in that state but not this one. She and the 20-year-old boy have gone together a year. They are both in college and my husband and I are ready to break their necks. We don't know what to do. She said she was married in the courthouse and we want her married in a church. Is it too late for that now?

MIDNIGHT LETTER:
DEAR MIDNIGHT LETTER: When your daughter comes home, tell her and her husband that you would like them to be remarried in a religious ceremony. Then speak with your clergyman and he will guide you.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a young man and plan to marry him soon. Recently he told me that he is in the habit of sleeping in his underwear, and intends to do so after we are married. (He picked up this habit in the Army.) The thought is repulsive to me. Is there any way I can get him to break this habit without making a big deal out of it?

BRIDE-TO-BE:
DEAR BRIDE: Tell him you intend to sleep in yours!

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who likes his night out once a week. I usually go out with my father and we throw darts. My wife started hollering for a night out once a week, too, so I said, "OK, so go already." She goes out with her girl friends and they stop into a bar for a drink and then see a movie. I don't like her in bars without me and told her so. But she says there is no harm in it. I trust her, but do you think I am trusting her too much? We have been married 10 years and have children.

JOSE:
DEAR JOSE: A married woman should not "stop into a bar" with other girls. Compromise. Tell her, "Movies, yes, bars no!"

DEAR ABBY: You were right the first time. In Napoli, Italy they eat pizza with a knife and fork. I saw it myself and have the pictures to prove it.

Presbyterian Women Hold Quarterly Meet at Church

The quarterly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Presbyterian Church was held recently in the church social rooms with Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, president, presiding.

Circle A was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. J. M. Hedges, circle chairman, presented the devotionals. Mrs. Bishop Given, secretary, read the revised by-laws of the organization, prepared by a committee composed of Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. Robert Adkins and Mrs. Beryl Stevenson. They were accepted as read.

It was announced that Circle B will have charge of the program at the all-quarterly meeting September 14, at which time the nominating committee will present the slate of officers for the next year.

Mrs. Wayne K. Smith, chairman of the Board of National Missions, introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. Ralph Starkey, Pickaway County Juvenile Probation officer.

Mr. Starkey presented a group of slides which were taken by him in area homes where children are living without adequate food, clothing and shelter. He pointed out that while children from these areas constitute a portion of the county's delinquency problem, they are by no means the largest portion.

Children who are given everything they want, who receive no spiritual training, who are never corrected and live in an atmosphere of constant quarreling with parents who have no interest in the wholesome development of their minds are prime candidates for an appearance in juvenile court. Starkey said, 65 per cent of the county's delinquent children have had no religious training. Part of the probationary procedure includes mandatory weekly attendance at Sunday School or Church.

Mr. Starkey concluded his talk by saying that families showing affection for each other and love and respect for God are those in which delinquency will not pose a problem.

Refreshments were served by Circle A following a question and answer period.

Solaqua Garden Unit Hosts All-County Garden Event

The Solaqua Garden Club, Ashville, was hostess to all garden clubs in Pickaway County for a Rose Breakfast and Flower Show Wednesday at the Robtown EUB Parish House.

Breakfast was served from long tables beautifully decorated with centerpieces of roses and other garden flowers.

A program was presented following the breakfast. Mrs. C. W. Hedges, president of the Solaqua Garden Club, gave the welcome, followed by the pledge to the flag given by Miss Judy Huston.

Miss Sally Hines, a piano student of Mrs. Leon Van Vleet, presented a medley of three numbers, "April Showers" by Silvers, "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Depden and "Old Fashioned Garden" by Cole Porter. An original poem "Grandma's Garden" was read by Mrs. Howard Koch. A vocal solo, "There is No Unbelief" was given by Mrs. Cecil Ward accompanied by Miss Hines. Mrs. Homer Peters gave two recitations "The Little House Out Back" and "Pa Catches a Chicken". Patty and Jay Welch presented a duet accompanied by Joy Welch. The program was closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Committee members who were responsible for the success of the meeting were: Mrs. Harry Trump and Mrs. Paul Stout, registration; Mrs. Charles Huston, program; Mrs. James Hott, Mrs. L. C. Schiff and Mrs. Lee Downs, flower show; Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Henry Hansen, refreshments; assisted by all the members of the club. Mrs. Howard Koch and Mrs. Glenn Rinehart were in charge of the bazaar which was held in conjunction with the affair.

The flower show was beautiful and quite successful despite the scarcity of flowers. Results are as follows: Specimens — Best Red Rose; first, Mrs. Turney Pontious; second, Mrs. C. W. Hedges; third, Mrs. John Koch; honorable mention, Mrs. Willard Barch. Best pink rose; first, Mrs. Turney Pontious; second, Mrs. C. W. Best Floribunda, any color; first, Mrs. Glenn Rinehart; second, Mrs. Charles Huston; third, Mrs. Harry Trump; honorable mention, Mrs. Donald Watt.

Results of the artistic arrangements were: Arrangement suitable for dinner table; first, Mrs. L. E. Foreman; second, Mrs. C. W. Hedges; third, Mrs. Donald Watt; honorable mention, Mrs. John Koch. Clergymen Need Knowledge Of Psychiatry, Cleric Says

NEW YORK (AP)—A prominent mental health expert feels that anybody who becomes a clergyman ought to see a psychiatrist. Dr. John P. Kildahl actually doesn't mean it quite that way; he's a clergyman himself, an ordained Lutheran minister.

But he also is a practicing psychotherapy specialist, as well as the head of the psychology department of Brooklyn's Lutheran Medical Center, and his double-edged experience has convinced him that "the demands on a minister's personality and emotions are greater than most other professions."

Only by thoroughly understanding themselves, he said, can ministers help others solve their problems.

Dr. Kildahl believes clergymen must maintain a healthy detachment in their relations with their flocks, which isn't always easy. "If there's a death in the parish," he said, "the minister can't allow his own emotions to be affected if he expects to be of help to the bereaved family. He must be able to differentiate between sympathy and empathy."

He said most parishioners expect their pastor to be, as St. Paul put it, "all things to all men." But Dr. Kildahl feels this is all but impossible for a normal human being living in the 20th Century to take literally.

His desire to counsel others was what led Dr. Kildahl from the ministry to medicine.

After his graduation from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., in 1949 he entered the Lutheran Seminary in St. Paul. During his postgraduate years he served as a hospital chaplain and the experience whetted his appetite for more knowledge on the methods of dealing with others' emotional problems.

He entered New York University while serving as an assistant minister at Bethany Lutheran Church in Brooklyn. When he received his doctorate in 1957 he left the ministry and took up private practice as a psychologist.

NEIGHBORS AND FENCES

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Maybe Walt and Jerry don't realize the paradox in this scene. They're simply leaning on the fence while their youngsters enjoy the new sliding board in Walt's backyard.

But fences once implied enmity... fear... selfishness. They are first cousins to the walls the ancients built around their cities.

Centuries of Christian influence have implanted a different spirit in men's hearts. A fence today can add interest and beauty to neighbors' gardens, while keeping Walt's and Jerry's kids from running across the flower beds.

There are countless evidences of Christian influence in our community today. The Church has elevated human ideals. Faithful worship and spiritual growth bring us closer to those ideals.

At the Offertory, the Girls' Choir will sing "Thou Visitest the Earth" by Greene. The organ prelude will be a Prelude on "St. Patrick's Beatitude" by Roland Diggle.

NEIGHBORS AND FENCES

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Maybe Walt and Jerry don't realize the paradox in this scene. They're simply leaning on the fence while their youngsters enjoy the new sliding board in Walt's backyard.

But fences once implied enmity... fear... selfishness. They are first cousins to the walls the ancients built around their cities.

Centuries of Christian influence have implanted a different spirit in men's hearts. A fence today can add interest and beauty to neighbors' gardens, while keeping Walt's and Jerry's kids from running across the flower beds.

There are countless evidences of Christian influence in our community today. The Church has elevated human ideals. Faithful worship and spiritual growth bring us closer to those ideals.

The Praise of the Redeemed

WORSHIP OFFERED GOD BY MEN ON EARTH DURING A GREAT HISTORIC EVENT, AND BY THE BEINGS IN HEAVEN

Scripture—Psalm 24; Revelation 5; 7:9-17; 11:15-19.

By N. SPEER JONES
AGAIN this week we study passages from the interesting book of Revelation, visions disclosed to the apostle John during his sufferings on the island of Patmos about 90 A.D. Coupled with them is David's 24th Psalm; all are psalms of praise to God.
To appreciate the 24th Psalm properly, we need to know that it was written in conjunction with the triumphal entry of the Ark of the Covenant into Jerusalem. The symbol of the Presence of the Lord since the time of His covenant with Moses and the Israelites, (see Exodus 33:12-14), the Ark housed the Lord's testimony. (For a description of it and its arrangement in the meeting

GOLDEN TEXT
"Hallelujah! For the Lord our God the Almighty reigns. Let us rejoice and exult and give Him the glory."—Revelation 19:6-7.

tion of the people, see Exodus 37:1-9; 38:21-40).
The Ark had survived many adventures, including capture in battle (1 Samuel 4:11), and at last, after David captured Jerusalem from the Philistines (II Samuel 5:25), the Ark was enconced triumphantly in that city, to be known henceforth as the "City of David," the "City of Zion" and "The City of the Lord of Hosts." It was for this occasion, the high point in David's life, that this Psalm was apparently written.

Jehovah Himself is pictured entering the city, for the Lord Himself "sits enthroned on the cherubim" of the Ark; He enters not merely as a victorious warrior, but as Ruler of the universe.

The psalm is also prophetic; it is now used for Ascension Day, celebrating the inauguration of the church of Christ.

ment is echoed in the next song (verse 12) by myriads of angels and in the next (verse 13) by all of creation, praising both God and Christ.
In the seventh chapter we find a huge multitude praising God and His Son. They are garbed in white, the heavenly color, purified by the blood of Christ, and they have survived "the great tribulation." The garb symbolizes the character of the redeemed, cleansed by Christ.

We also see here that Christ's divine guidance will exist in the present.
In the eleventh chapter of Revelation we have yet another hymn of praise and thanksgiving, sung by "the twenty-four elders." After "the nations rage," judgment day has come, in this vision of John's.

Provision of Water By Townships Is Okd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Township fire departments may furnish fire department water to private citizens to protect lives and property in times of drought and emergency, an attorney general's opinion said Thursday.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, as mild as President Eisenhower in dealing with Congress, is still mild with the Senate which shot holes in his foreign aid program.

Acting contrary to the policy followed by Eisenhower and last year by Kennedy, the Senate last week voted to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia and Poland except, as an afterthought, surplus food.

This angered the Kennedy administration but the President could hardly be described as boiling at his news conference Thursday. He mostly limited himself to quoting the reaction of American ambassadors to what the Senate did.

The closest he came himself to criticism was this one sentence: "I don't think we should do those favors to them (the Russians) if we can help it."

The administration regards the Senate action as a break for Moscow by slashing American ties with Communist-run countries which some day might cut loose from Russia.

This is the background of what happened:
Last week the Senate approved an amendment—sponsored by two Democrats, William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Frank Lautch of Ohio—to shut off all aid to Yugoslavia and Poland.

The former, while still very friendly to Moscow but no longer under its thumb, had received both economic and military aid. Poland, still under Moscow's overlordship but restless, has been given only economic help.

While the debate was going on, McGee Bundy, one of Kennedy's main advisers, sent the White House view on the whole business to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader.

Two Republican senators—George Aiken of Vermont and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky—cautioned the Senate, including Democrats like Proxmire and Lautch, to be careful.

But the Senate voted, 57 to 24, to shut off the aid. Thirty-four Democrats joined 23 Republicans in supporting the Proxmire-Lautch amendment. Voting with the administration against the amendment were 18 Democrats and six Republicans.

Almost immediately Secretary of State Dean Rusk protested the Senate action would "give the impression abroad that we are permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

And Thursday, before Kennedy's news conference, the administration made public the reaction of George F. Kennan, American ambassador to Yugoslavia, and John Moors Cabot, American ambassador to Poland.

Kennan called the Senate vote a big favor to Russia. "A severe blow to American aims in Eastern Europe" and a "signal demonstration of ill-will" toward an increasingly friendly people.

Cabot predicted "a violent change in U.S.-Polish relations. And Thursday Kennedy, giving the ambassadors' reactions rather than his own, hardly went beyond calling the Senate vote a favor to Russia, which is what Kennan had said.

In answer to the very next question about Democrats voting against him, Kennedy praised the Democrats who voted for his request to raise the national debt limit and obliquely rebuked the Republicans who voted for cutting off aid to Yugoslavia and Poland.

However, if the 34 Democrats who joined the 23 Republicans in voting against him on the amendment had stayed on his side, the amendment would have been drowned and he'd have no problem.

American aid to Yugoslavia began in 1950 after Marshal Tito's break with Stalin. Since then it has amounted to almost $2.3 billion in economic and military help, of which the latter was $683.9 million. In addition this country has provided the Yugoslavs with $437 million in surplus foods.

The greatest part of American aid to Poland was in the years immediately after the war—1945-48. It came to $442 million in economic aid then. Since 1957 the economic aid has been about $72 million. In addition this country provided the Poles with $365.3 million in surplus foods.

B-GIRL PROBE — Testifying before the U.S. Senate Rackets subcommittee in Washington, Patti Joyce, former B-girl who now is a waitress in Philadelphia, and still a member of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA), said she turned to the waitress' trade because she lacked "guts" to entice money for drinks. She gave a vivid description of B-girl activities.

The Praise of the Redeemed

WORSHIP OFFERED GOD BY MEN ON EARTH DURING A GREAT HISTORIC EVENT, AND BY THE BEINGS IN HEAVEN

Scripture—Psalm 24; Revelation 5; 7:9-17; 11:15-19.

By N. SPEER JONES
 AGAIN this week we study passages from the interesting book of Revelation, visions disclosed to the apostle John during his sufferings on the island of Patmos about 90 A.D. Coupled with them is David's 24th Psalm; all are psalms of praise to God.

To appreciate the 24th Psalm properly, we need to know that it was written in conjunction with the triumphal entry of the Ark of the Covenant into Jerusalem. The symbol of the Presence of the Lord since the time of His covenant with Moses and the Israelites, (see Exodus 33:12-14), the Ark housed the Lord's testimony. tion of Christ's heavenly dimension. It will achieve even fuller meaning when the gates or doors of men's hearts everywhere are flung open to acknowledge Him.

Moving to Revelation, we study several of the many songs sung by various heavenly creatures. In the fifth chapter, we have three such. The first of these is the "new song" (verses 9-10) sung by "the four living creatures" and the twenty-four elders," in praise of the fact that the Lamb (Christ) is indeed worthy to open the Lord's scroll (perhaps of the future).

He is worthy because He has sacrificed Himself for men everywhere, making them thereby "a kingdom of priests" (Revelation 1:6). This sentiment of the people, see Exodus 37:1-9; 38:21-40.

The Ark had survived many adventures, including capture in battle (I Samuel 4:11), and at last, after David captured Jerusalem from the Philistines (II Samuel 5:25), the Ark was encoined triumphantly in that city, to be known henceforth as the "City of David," the "City of Zion" and "The City of the Lord of Hosts." It was for this occasion, the high point in David's life, that this Psalm was apparently written.

Jehovah Himself is pictured entering the city, for the Lord "sits enthroned on the cherubim" of the Ark; He enters not merely as a victorious warrior, but as Ruler of the universe.

The psalm is also prophetic; it is now used for Ascension Day, celebrating the inaugural National Council of Churches of Christ

ment is echoed in the next song (verse 12) by myriads of angels and in the next (verse 13) by all of creation, praising both God and Christ.

In the seventh chapter we find a huge multitude praising God and His Son. They are garbed in white, the heavenly color, purified by the blood of Christ, and they have survived "the great tribulation." The garb symbolizes the character of the redeemed, cleansed by Christ.

We also see here that Christ's divine guidance will exist in the eternal life as well as in the present.

In the eleventh chapter of Revelation we have yet another hymn of praise and thanksgiving, sung by "the twenty-four elders." After "the nations raged," judgment day has come, in this vision of John's.

EUB Church Urges Aid to Red China

VERMILION, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio East Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church has gone on record in favor of sending surplus grain to Communist China.

The proposal, submitted by the Christian Social Action Committee, was adopted by 275 delegates at the closing session of the four-day conference.

Noting that in human terms it may seem unwise to feed an enemy, the committee stated:

"We felt that the Christian can not ignore the physical needs of his fellow man toward the command of Our Lord. Therefore, we urge our government to make surplus grain available to famine-ridden China."

Provision of Water By Townships Is OK'd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Township fire departments may furnish fire department water to private citizens to protect lives and property in times of drought and emergency, an attorney general's opinion said Thursday.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy forwarded the opinion to James W. Freeman, Coshocton County prosecutor, noting that Ohio law call for townships to "protect the property and lives of the citizens against damage and accidents."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, as mild as President Eisenhower in dealing with Congress, is still mild with the Senate which shot holes in his foreign aid program.

Acting contrary to the policy followed by Eisenhower and last year by Kennedy, the Senate last week voted to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia and Poland except, as an afterthought, surplus food.

This angered the Kennedy administration but the President could hardly be described as boiling at his news conference Thursday. He mostly limited himself to quoting the reaction of American ambassadors to what the Senate did.

The closest he came himself to criticism was this one sentence: "I don't think we should do those favors to them (the Russians) if we can help it."

The administration regards the Senate action as a break for Moscow by slashing American ties with Communist-run countries which some day might cut loose from Russia.

This is the background of what happened:

Last week the Senate approved an amendment—sponsored by two Democrats, William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Frank Lausche of Ohio—to shut off all aid to Yugoslavia and Poland.

The former, while still very friendly to Moscow but no longer under its thumb, had received both economic and military aid. Poland, still under Moscow's overlordship but restless, has been given only economic help.

While the debate was going on, McGee Bundy, one of Kennedy's main advisers, sent the White House view on the whole business to Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader.

Two Republican senators—George Aiken of Vermont and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky—cautioned the Senate, including Democrats like Proxmire and Lausche, to be careful.

But the Senate voted, 57 to 24, to shut off the aid. Thirty-four Democrats joined 23 Republicans in supporting the Proxmire-Lausche amendment. Voting with the administration against the amendment were 18 Democrats and six Republicans.

Almost immediately Secretary of State Dean Rusk protested the Senate action would "give the impression abroad that we are permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

And Thursday, before Kennedy's news conference, the administration made public the reaction of George F. Kennan, American ambassador to Yugoslavia, and John Moors Cabot, American ambassador to Poland.

Kennan called the Senate vote a big favor to Russia, "a severe blow to American aims in Eastern Europe" and "a signal demonstration of ill-will" toward an increasingly friendly people.

Cabot predicted a violent change in U.S.-Polish relations. And Thursday Kennedy, giving

B-GIRL PROBE — Testifying before the U.S. Senate Rackets subcommittee in Washington, Patti Joyce, former B-girl who now is a waitress in Philadelphia, and still a member of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA), said she turned to the waitress' trade because she lacked "guts" to entice money for drinks. She gave a vivid description of B-girl activities.

the ambassadors' reactions rather than his own, hardly went beyond calling the Senate vote a favor to Russia, which is what Kennan had said.

In answer to the very next question about Democrats voting against him, Kennedy praised the Democrats who voted for his request to raise the national debt limit and obliquely rebuked the Republicans who voted for cutting off aid to Yugoslavia and Poland. However, if the 34 Democrats who joined the 23 Republicans in voting against him on the amendment had stayed on his side, the amendment would have been drowned and he'd have no problem.

American aid to Yugoslavia began in 1950 after Marshal Tito's break with Stalin. Since then it has amounted to almost $2.3 billion in economic and military help, of which the latter was $693.9 million. In addition this country has provided the Yugoslavs with $437 million in surplus foods.

The greatest part of American aid to Poland was in the years immediately after the war—1945-48. It came to $442 million in economic aid then. Since 1957 the economic aid has been about $72 million. In addition this country provided the Poles with $365.3 million in surplus foods.

Twentieth Century Limited Observes 60th Anniversary

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the world's most famous trains celebrates its 60th anniversary today—still a showpiece in an era of diminishing rail travel.

It's the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited, running between New York and Chicago.

While the noted flyer nowadays doesn't have quite all the elegant touches of yesteryear, it continues to provide the railroad's top in equipment and personal service.

And the renowned red carpet still is rolled out on the platform for passengers boarding at either end of the line. Countless patrons have remained faithful through many years.

Al Jolson used to entertain dining car crowds with popular songs of the day.

On some occasions, the train has been all but mobbed at stops because of the personalities it carried. Among them were Ignace Jan Paderewski, the celebrated pianist and president of Poland, and film stars Douglas Fairbanks Sr., and bride, Mary Pickford—"America's sweetheart."

The Twentieth Century was purposely created as a luxurious, fast-train on June 15, 1902. At times it has provided such niceties as barber service, private valets, stenographers and a library.

Through the years the train has been booked in plays, films, songs, books, poems and newspaper and magazine articles galore. The train's "Diamond Jubilee," as the Central calls it, will be hailed today in ceremonies here and in Chicago.

The first Century trains—it takes a pair to make the daily run each way—consisted of a steam locomotive and five wooden Pullman cars. The cars were three pullmans, a dining car and a car containing a buffet, library and barber shop.

On the first day, the trains carried a total of 42 passengers. For some years, the train ran on a 20-hour schedule each way. Since 1932 it has made the 961-mile trip in 960 minutes, or 16 hours. As an accommodation to business men, it leaves each city late in the day and arrives at the other first thing next morning.

In the 60 years, the Central estimates, its twin Centuries have carried six million passengers a total of 62½ million miles.

Passengers have averaged 103,000 yearly, producing an average revenue of $4.1 million annually. Last year there were nearly 152,000 passengers and the trains grossed approximately $8.1 million.

On every run now each Century, pulled by a diesel electric engine and with about 16 streamlined cars, needs a total crew of 55. In addition each train has a mail car requiring a total of 29 clerks.

Akron Boy, 18, Destined for Electric Chair

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Death in the electric chair is the fate set for 18-year-old Richard John Stewart by three Common Pleas Court judges who convicted him in the sex strangling of a Kent University coed.

The death penalty is a somatic because the judges did not recommend mercy in the first-degree murder conviction for the slaying of 18-year-old Judy Sooy last September in the basement of the Stewart home.

"It's unfair, he's not guilty," Stewart's mother cried out when the verdict was announced late Thursday. "They had to believe you, but they didn't," said Mrs. Howard Hathaway as she embraced her son and wept.

The judges were Frank H. Harvey, L. A. Lombardi and Stephen A. Colopy.

Defense attorneys, who have until Monday to file motions, said they would seek a new trial and appeal the verdict.

OSU Alumni Chief Gets Another Pat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's controversial alumni secretary, John B. (Jack) Fullen, has again received a vote of support from the Alumni Association's board of directors.

In a statement in the current edition of the Ohio State University Monthly, an Alumni Association publication, Fullen is lauded for bringing the association and the university's development fund to "top national ranking."

The favorable vote, however, has failed to dampen Fullen's opposition to an "alumni committee for advancement of Ohio State University." The group has opposed Fullen's conduct and his editorship of the alumni magazine.

An officer for the insurgent group, Ralph Hoyer of Columbus, John D. Cole of Dayton and other representatives appeared before an association board meeting May 26 to level their charges against the alumni secretary. The group suggested a poll of the 36,000 members on their reaction to Fullen's 34-year leadership.

Three newly-elected members of the Alumni Association's 11-member board of directors are supported by the insurgent group. However, the three—Frederick Mackey and Frances Voss of Columbus and John Gushman of Lancaster—will not have a voice on the board until its fall meeting. It is at this meeting that Fullen's contract will be reviewed for renewal.

during the trial for the defense that Stewart was psychotic when he killed the girl. They said he knew what he was doing when he lured Miss Sooy to his home and hit her with a hammer to knock her out, but that he was "detached from reality" when he tightened a piece of clothesline around her neck and strangled her because he couldn't stand her moans.

Stewart said he took her to the basement because he wanted to see her nude body. She was not raped.

The Bisbee boy says he hopes the Air Force won't back out on the offer.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Clearing skies permitted the ground heat to escape Thursday night, and Ohio's temperatures dropped low enough to cause ground fog.

Fog reduced the visibility to near zero at Cincinnati, Zanesville, Youngstown and Chesebrough. Skies continued clear, however, at Toledo, Findlay and Dayton.

Temperatures dropped into the upper 40s at Mansfield, while Toledo reported 54 at sunrise today, Zanesville 53 and Findlay 52.

Fair, sunny weather is expected today, and afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 70s. The fair weather will continue tonight and Saturday, but high temperatures will be mostly in the 80s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average one to four degrees above normal. Only minor daily changes. Normal high 77-81, normal low 56-62. Rainfall will average one-fourth of an inch or less in showers Monday or Tuesday.

SOUTHER & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near normal with slight warming through Monday, little change Tuesday and Wednesday. Normal high 80-87, normal low 59-64. Rainfall will average one-fourth of an inch or less, but with local amounts to about an inch, in thundershowers likely about Tuesday.

He's Ready, Willing

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP)—Cosme Martinez, 18-year-old Bisbee High School senior, is ready and willing to accept an offer he received from the Air Force.

Martinez' letter from an Air Force recruiter read:

"The Women's Air Force welcomes your enlistment. The WAF is a most distinctive group of ladies. You may enjoy a new and exciting social life. There are unequalled opportunities for you as a member of the WAF."

The Bisbee boy says he hopes the Air Force won't back out on the offer.

A week after the Indianapolis street department paved Victoria street, the city's sanitation department tore it up for a new sewer line—news item. So far, it would seem, that's the outstanding reverse play of the year.

JFK Urges...

wait until 1964 to argue politics. Those problems exist regardless of who occupies the White House, he said, commenting that Eisenhower held office during the 1953 and 1960 recessions.

The chief executive said he couldn't imagine anyone deriving political or personal pleasure out of the stock market plunge or economic crises. That was his response when asked about a columnist's report that the current big business attitude toward Kennedy is: "Now we have you where we want you."

Kennedy previously had remarked that most businessmen are Republicans and happier when a Republican is president.

He got a laugh by saying: "I can't believe I am where big business wants me."

Kennedy said if Republicans make his farm bill a party issue, "We will find ourselves with a very close vote on a matter which has the first chance of bringing some order out of what is a very chaotic situation."

The administration measure, he contended, would save taxpayers $4 billion over the next four years. Defeat, he said, would reinstate the program of Eisenhower's secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson—and he maintained this has cost more than $6.5 billion a year, would continue piling up surpluses and depress farm income.

Kennedy had this to say on other topics: Economic Policy—Asked whether government would play an active role in industry and labor wage-price discussions, he said that in a free economy, "We have to attempt to work out the solutions on a voluntary basis."

Deficits—It's not true, Kennedy repeated from his Yale speech of Monday, that budget deficits necessarily induce inflation.

Soviet Union—If agreement on an independent coalition government sticks in Laos, Kennedy said the atmosphere may change and more amicable relations may be possible with the Soviet Union.

Foreign Aid—Senate-voted restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia and Poland represent favors for Moscow, Kennedy said.

Southeast Asia—Kennedy said U.S. policy in Southeast Asia should always be under review, a point made by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in a speech questioning results of U.S. moves in that region.

Space—While the Pentagon plays a significant part in the space program, Kennedy said, the civilian space agency will retain primary responsibility.

Twentieth Century Limited Observes 60th Anniversary

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the world's most famous trains celebrates its 60th anniversary today—still a showpiece in an era of diminishing rail travel.

It's the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited, running between New York and Chicago.

While the noted flyer nowadays doesn't have quite all the elegant touches of yesteryear, it continues to provide the railroad's tops in equipment and personal service.

And the renowned red carpet still is rolled out on the platform for passengers boarding at either end of the line. Countless patrons have remained faithful through many years.

Al Johnson used to entertain dining car crowds with popular songs of the day.

On some occasions, the train has been all but mobbed at stops because of the personages it carried. Among them were Ignace Jan Paderewski, the celebrated pianist and president of Poland, and film stars Douglas Fairbanks Sr., and bride, Mary Pickford—“America's sweetheart.”

The Twentieth Century was purposely created as a luxurious, fast-run train on June 15, 1902. At times it has provided such niceties as barber service, private valets, stenographers and a library.

Through the years the train has been celebrated in plays, films, songs, books, poems and newspaper and magazine articles galore. The train's “Diamond Jubilee,” as the Central calls it, will be hailed today in ceremonies here and in Chicago.

The first Century trains—it takes a pair to make the daily run each way—consisted of a steam locomotive and five wooden but ornate cars. The cars were three pullmans, a dining car and a car containing a buffet, library and barber shop.

On the first day, the trains carried a total of 42 passengers.

For some years, the train ran on a 20-hour schedule each way. Since 1932 it has made the 961-mile trip in 960 minutes, or 16 hours. As an accommodation to business men, it leaves each city late in the day and arrives at the other first thing next morning.

In the 60 years, the Central estimates, its twin Centuries have carried six million passengers a total of 62½ million miles.

Passengers have averaged 103,000 yearly, producing an average revenue of $4.1 million annually. Last year there were nearly 132,000 passengers and the trains grossed approximately $8.1 million.

On every run now each Century, pulled by a diesel electric engine and with about 16 streamlined cars, needs a total crew of 55. In addition each train has a mail car requiring a total of 29 clerks.

Akron Boy, 18, Destined for Electric Chair

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Death in the electric chair is the fate set for 18-year-old Richard John Stewart by three Common Pleas Court judges who convicted him in the sex strangling of a Kent University coed.

The death penalty is aomatic because the judges did not recommend mercy in the first-degree murder conviction for the slaying of 18-year-old Judy Sooy last September in the basement of the Stewart home.

“It's unfair, he's not guilty,” Stewart's mother cried out when the verdict was announced late Thursday. “They had to believe you, but they didn't,” said Mrs. Howard Hathaway as she embraced her son and wept.

The judges were Frank H. Harvey, L. A. Lombardi and Stephen A. Colopy.

Defense attorneys, who have until Monday to file motions, said they would seek a new trial and appeal the verdict.

OSU Alumni Chief Gets Another Pat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's controversial alumni secretary, John B. (Jack) Fullen, has again received a vote of support from the Alumni Association's board of directors.

In a statement in the current edition of the Ohio State University Monthly, an Alumni Association publication, Fullen is lauded for bringing the association and the university's development fund to “top national ranking.”

The favorable vote, however, has failed to dampen Fullen's opposition to an “alumni committee for advancement of Ohio State University.” The group has opposed Fullen's conduct and his editorship of the alumni magazine.

An officer for the insurgent group, Ralph Hoyer of Columbus, John D. Cole of Dayton and other representatives appeared before an association board meeting May 26 to level their charges against the alumni secretary. The group suggested a poll of the 36,000 members on their reaction to Fullen's 34-year leadership.

Three newly-elected members of the Alumni Association's 11-member board of directors are supported by the insurgent group. However, the three — Frederick Mackey and Frances Voss of Columbus and John Gushman of Lancaster—will not have a voice on the board until its fall meeting. It is at this meeting that Fullen's contract will be reviewed for renewal.

during the trial for the defense that Stewart was psychotic when he killed the girl. They said he knew what he was doing when he lured Miss Sooy to his home and hit her with a hammer to knock her out, but that he was “detached from reality” when he tightened a piece of clothesline around her neck and strangled her because he couldn't stand her moans.

Stewart said he took her to the basement because he wanted to see her nude body. She was not raped.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Clearing skies permitted the ground heat to escape Thursday night, and Ohio's temperatures dropped low enough to cause ground fog.

Fog reduced the visibility to near zero at Cincinnati, Chesapeake, Youngstown and Zanesville. Skies continued clear, however, at Toledo, Findlay and Dayton.

Temperatures dropped into the upper 40s at Mansfield, while Toledo reported 54 at sunrise today, Zanesville 53 and Findlay 52.

Fair, sunny weather is expected today, and afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 70s. The fair weather will continue tonight and Saturday, but high temperatures Saturday will be mostly in the 80s

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average one to four degrees above normal. Only minor daily changes. Normal high 77-81, normal low 56-62. Rainfall will average one-fourth of an inch or less in showers Monday or Tuesday.

SOUTHER & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal with slight warming through Monday, little change Tuesday and Wednesday. Normal high 80-87, normal low 59-64. Rainfall will average one-fourth of an inch or less, but with local amounts to about an inch, in thundershowers likely about Tuesday.

He's Ready, Willing

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP)—Cosme Martinez, 18-year-old Bisbee High School senior, is ready and willing to accept an offer he received from the Air Force.

Martinez' letter from an Air Force recruiter read:

“The Women's Air Force welcomes your enlistment. The WAF is a most distinctive group of ladies. You may enjoy a new and exciting social life. There are unequalled opportunities for you as a member of the WAF.”

The Bisbee boy says he hopes the Air Force won't back out on the offer.

A week after the Indianapolis street department paved Victoria street, the city's sanitation department tore it up for a new sewer line — news item. So far, it would seem, that's the outstanding reverse play of the year.

Miss Torchick Earns Dairy Princess Nod

Carol Torchick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Torchick, Route 1, has been selected as the 1962 Pickaway County Dairy Princess. She was named during the county contest conducted this week at the Fairgrounds.

Miss Torchick, a 1962 graduate of Logan Elm High School, has completed seven years of 4-H club work and her work has included nine dairy projects.

She was the 1961 Miss Pumpkin Show and Fair Queen, member of National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, Homecoming Queen, Farm Bureau Youth Council, and a member of District 10 Jersey Assn.

The new Dairy Princess will represent Pickaway County in the State Dairy Princess Contest to be held June 22-23 at the Fort Hayes Hotel in Columbus.

NAMED alternates in the county contest were Janet Schneider of Walnut Township and Patty Kempton of Perry Township.

Trophies and participant awards were presented, courtesy of the Blue Ribbon Dairy and the Pickaway Coop, both of Circleville. Judges were Mrs. Doyle Painter, Circleville, Mr. Alvin Recobs, dairyman, and Steve Jones of The Circleville Herald.

JFK Urges...

wait until 1964 to argue politics. Those problems exist regardless of who occupies the White House, he said, commenting that Eisenhower held office during the 1958 and 1960 recessions.

The chief executive said he couldn't imagine anyone deriving political or personal pleasure out of the stock market plunge or economic crises. That was his response when asked about a columnist's report that the current big business attitude toward Kennedy is: “Now we have you where we want you.”

Kennedy previously had remarked that most businessmen are Republicans and happier when a Republican is president.

He got a laugh by saying: “I can't believe I am where big business wants me.”

Kennedy said if Republicans make his farm bill a party issue, “We will find ourselves with a very close vote on a matter which has the first chance of bringing some order out of what is a very chaotic situation.”

The administration measure, he contended, would save taxpayers $4 billion over the next four years. Defeat, he said, would reinstate the program of Eisenhower's secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson—and he maintained this has cost more than $6.5 billion a year, would continue piling up surpluses and depress farm income.

Kennedy had this to say on other topics:

Economic Policy—Asked whether government would play an active role in industry and labor wage-price discussions, he said that in a free economy, “We have to attempt to work out the solutions on a voluntary basis.”

Deficits—It's not true, Kennedy repeated from his Yale speech of Monday, that budget deficits necessarily induce inflation.

Soviet Union—If agreement on an independent coalition government sticks in Laos, Kennedy said the atmosphere may change and more amicable relations may be possible with the Soviet Union.

Foreign Aid—Senate-voted restrictions on aid to Yugoslavia and Poland represent favors for Moscow, Kennedy said.

Southeast Asia — Kennedy said U.S. policy in Southeast Asia should always be under review, a point made by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in a speech questioning results of U.S. moves in that region.

Space — While the Pentagon plays a significant part in the space program, Kennedy said, the civilian space agency will retain primary responsibility.

U.S. Aid Slash Seen Boon to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—George F. Kennan, ambassador to Yugoslavia, holds that congressional moves to crack down on U.S. aid and trade with that Communist nation are a windfall for the Soviet Union and a severe blow to U.S. aims in Eastern Europe.

Kennan expressed that view in a private message from Belgrade to Secretary of State Dean Rusk this week.

Rusk, it was learned today, has also received a message from Ambassador John Moors Cabot at Warsaw, Poland, predicting a violent change in U.S.-Polish relations if the proposals become law. Cabot forecast a sharp setback for the U.S. policy of encouraging and supporting Poland's trend toward independence from Moscow domination.

Kennan suggested to Rusk that he be brought home to talk with congressional leaders on U.S. policies toward Yugoslavia and the Eastern European Soviet bloc as a whole.

Both the Kennan and Cabot messages were presented to President Kennedy by Rusk. The President is expected to use them in his campaign to get Congress to abandon or revise proposals to curtail aid and trade to the Communist countries.

Both Kennan and Cabot referred in their messages to Senate votes for a sharp curtailment in aid to any Communist country and to a House committee vote to prohibit trade with Poland and Yugoslavia on the favorable terms which govern U.S. commerce with most other nations.

Kennan said in his report to Rusk that the actions in Congress were a signal demonstration of ill-will toward an increasingly friendly people. So far as Yugoslavia is concerned, he added, the harm has already been accomplished by the actions taken in Congress.

Poland is a member of the Soviet bloc but asserted some independent policies in 1956 and began

Rooney Cash Gone, But Not Friends

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney is finding that he doesn't lose his friends as easily as he lost his money.

They began rallying to his aid after he filed for bankruptcy Tuesday. He claims he's broke and $464,914 in debt.

Rooney reportedly has earned $12 million in 30 years of show business. He blames his financial condition on bad counsel and bad judgment.

Bachelorhood in Washington Said To Be Full-Time Job

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Being a bachelor in Washington can be almost a full-time job.

If the unattached male has a prominent position in government it's a tossup with the hardworking hostesses whether he is doing more for his country in his official capacity or as a dinner partner for some widowed, aged, visiting or temporarily unescorted female who simply must be invited.

Few among the unsung, unwed but well-fed stags feel the urge to analyze their meal tickets in print. Robert Keith Gray is an exception, and his recently published book "Eighteen Acres Under Grass" (dimensions of the White House grounds) is a good-humored guidebook to, among other things, Washington's terribly serious social life.

When handsome, uncommitted Bob Gray was secretary of the Cabinet in the Eisenhower administration he was listed by the press as one of the Capitol's most eligible bachelors. He was able to preserve his native Nebraska modesty when he discovered another most-eligible was Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, aged 93.

He's now a far-from-feeble 39, and his white hair, which he's had from school days, lends a man of distinction air. Since leaving government service he's been vice president of a public relations firm and a continuing pet of Washington hostesses.

"The amount of business transacted at a social event is substantial," Gray says.

"Women have a greater part in running the country here than anywhere else in the world. Men may hold the key jobs, but the influence of their wives is tremendous."

Gray says he feels himself only a temporary bachelor, but "it's hard to break out of the bachelor status in Washington. You're sought after to fill places, and hostesses don't team you up with eligible girls. You're never asked, even for dances, to bring a date."

to receive American aid in surplus food and some agricultural and mining machinery thereafter. Yugoslavia broke openly with Moscow in 1948 and has been an independent Communist government.

Cabot said the result of the measures projected in Congress would be to lose everything gained by the $500 million worth of aid already furnished to Poland.

Little League Bullfighters Face 4 Bulls

NUEVO LAREDO, Mex. (AP)—A couple of youngsters from Mon-terrey, who should be trying out for Little League baseball instead of risking their young lives, will appear in the local bull ring Sun-day to kill four bulls.

For Eloy Cavazos, 10, and Gil-berto Sanchez, 11, there is only one ambition and one ultimate goal—to be Mexico's top bull-fighter, the sooner the better.

The two young lads will tangle in the arena here Sunday in a mano-a-mano (where only two bullfighters see action and com-pete against each other) killing four young bulls which will weigh as much as six times as they do.

They are the main characters in a child retinue of bullfighters. They have participated in 26 bul-fights in the three years they've been active in the ring and have already killed nine bulls apiece.

Last Sunday they performed here before a huge crowd but didn't kill the bulls. The demand for an encore was so great that impresario Lauro Longoria has signed them up for another ap-pearance.

Eloy's father, who is a bull ring em-ployee in one of the two major Monterrey arenas, has been the force behind the youths' quick rise in popularity.

They have appeared in bullrings in their native Monterrey, Saltillo, San Luis Piedad, Negras, Sabinas, Tampico, Ciudad Victoria, Aca-pulco and Puebla.

I'm It Favored At Scioto Downs

Two outstanding nights of first class harness racing make up the weekend racing card at Scioto Downs.

In the eighth race Saturday, the feature event on the weekend's race card, six pacers will vie for a purse of $4,000 in a 14 Class stake event.

I'm It is favored to take the first mile and a quarter race distance ever held at "The Downs". Owned by Mrs. George Van Camp of Circleville, I'm It paced a record of 1:59 4-5 as a 2 yr-old, and posted a mile in 2:00 4-5 this year.

Providing top competition to the brilliant mare is Frisco Hal with a record of 2:03. Mr. Chief Forbes who won at Scioto in 2:03, Wild-wood Bill, owned and driven by Erv Samples with a record of 2:00 4-5, Princess Berry from the Curly Smart Stable with a record of 2:03 3-5, and the Detroit speedster Mary Lew H who won in 2:03 1-5 at Hazel Park this year.

In Friday night's featured seventh race, the $1,200 Handicap Trot, Mr. Ambassador still smart-ing from a defeat last week in a photo finish, is the early pre-race choice on the morning line. Owned by L. L. Wendel of St. Mary's, Ohio, Mr. Ambassador reined by Erv Samples, won in 2:04 3-5 on June 5, then lost out in a photo finish to Bur Dean in 2:04 1-5 in his last race. Samples reports that the aged gelding has returned to form and promises to be the horse they will have to beat. His opposition is the famed Mr. Coaltown now owned by the Shadyland Farm of Columbus, Ohio, and Betsy Raid-er, owned by Leo Van Rhoden of Mount Vernon.

In the eighth race, the co-feat-ured $900 B-3 Pace, Foggy Night, owned by Virgil Stitzel and Wal-ter Hackett of Springfield, Ohio, is the early choice. Trained and driven by Dick Hackett, this geld-ing son of James K. Abbe, won his last start in a blistering 2:04 2-5. The Bell Aire Farms, L. B. Black-stone is the chief threat to Foggy Night, and Bob Seabrook will be ready with the veteran Betty Rock, owned by the Cartnal Bros. of New-ark.

Nine races make up the Friday Night card with post time at 8:15 p. m.

Saturday night promises to be another memorable night at Scioto Downs. Nine races will offer $10,500 in purses.

Gray, Kochheiser hurler, had two doubles and a triple in four turns at bat. Hawks chipped in with two singles in three trips, and Bobby Young scored two runs to pace the winners.

Larry Smallwood socked a triple in two trips and scored three runs for the losers.

The regularly scheduled seven inning contest ended in a 6-6 dead-lock. VFW jumped on top with a run in the top of the extra frame, but Kochheiser's won out in the bottom of the eighth by scoring two runs.

It will be win or get out tonight when Texas and Santa Clara meet in the double-elimination NCAA Championships with Michigan watching from the grandstand. The winner plays the Wolverines, last team to lose in the tourney, Saturday night. Each survivor has a 3-1 record.

Texas broke open a scoreless struggle in the seventh inning with a run on a 30-foot pop and rode to a 7-0 victory over Michi-gan Tuesday night. Santa Clara had it easy, benefitting from eight errors and sent Florida State to the sidelines 11-6.

In the sixth race, eight fast class pacers go postward in the $1,200 Handicap Pace and Gray Rodney, owned by the Montour Farms of Coriapolis, Pa., is the early choice. This pacing son of Rodney breezed to a mile in 2:01 his last time out, and will have to fight off such pacing stalwarts as Barney Black-stone who won in 2:03 1-5 this year, Josedale Jet a r r o w who finish-ed third to the favorite in their last race, and the improving Johnny Chase who owns a record of 2:00 4-5.

In the seventh race, the $2,000 Invitational Pace, the seven fastest horses on the grounds will square off in a battle for pacing honors, and the result could well be a sub two minute clocking. By post position they are No Bargain with a record of 2:02, who finished second to Gray Rodney, Straw Hat with a record of 2:02, Jean's Mink the London flash with a mile mark of 2:02 2-5, Iowa Lieutenant, the pacer who astounded the fans at Scioto last week with a mile in 2:01 2-5, Mighty Lass who is playing hockey from the HTA series, Golden Gift who scored in 2:01 4-5 his last time out, and Edgewood Roy-al who just missed the two minute mark in his last race, timed in 2:00 4-5.

After playing 508 straight games with Cincinnati's Reds, outfielder Vada Pinson pulled a muscle in his right leg and rode the bench. His streak began with the last three games of 1958.

Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks paced Stanley Cup hockey scorers this season, with 21 points on six goals and 15 assists. Team-mate Bobby Hull led in goals with eight.

Little League Bullfighters Face 4 Bulls

NUEVO LAREDO, Mex. (AP)—A couple of youngsters from Monterrey, who should be trying out for Little League baseball instead of risking their young lives, will appear in the local bull ring Sunday to kill four bulls.

For Eloy Cavazos, 10, and Gilberto Sanchez, 11, there is only one ambition and one ultimate goal—to be Mexico's top bullfighter, the sooner the better.

The two young lads will tangle in the arena here Sunday in a mano-a-mano (where only two bullfighters see action and compete against each other) killing four young bulls which will weigh as much as six times as they do.

They are the main characters in a child retinue of bullfighters. They have participated in 26 bullfights in the three years they've been active in the ring and have already killed nine bulls apiece.

Last Sunday they performed here before a huge crowd but didn't kill the bulls. The demand for an encore was so great that impresario Lauro Longoria has signed them up for another appearance.

Each gets 5,000 pesos ($450) per appearance. Eloy's father, who is a bull ring employee in one of the two major Monterrey arenas, has been the force behind the youths' quick rise in popularity.

They have appeared in bullfights in their native Monterrey, Saltillo, San Luis Potosi, Tlaxiaco, Tampico, Ciudad Victoria, Acapulco and Puebla.

College Series In 3-Way Tie

OMAHA, (AP) — The College World Series is a three-way knot with Michigan, victim of misfortune when an easy popout fell safely, drawing the luck of a bye while Texas and Santa Clara battle it out on the edge of elimination.

It will be win or get out tonight when Texas and Santa Clara meet in the double-elimination NCAA Championships with Michigan watching from the grandstand. The winner plays the Wolverines, last team to lose in the tourney, Saturday night. Each survivor has a 3-1 record.

Texas broke open a scoreless struggle in the seventh inning with a run on a 30-foot pop and rode to a 7-0 victory over Michigan Thursday night. Santa Clara had it easy, benefitting from eight errors and sent Florida State to the sidelines 11-6.

Everett, whose teams the past two years compiled a 23-13 record, succeeds John (Fritz) Plinke who resigned.

I'm It Favored At Scioto Downs

Two outstanding nights of first class harness racing make up the weekend racing card at Scioto Downs.

In the eighth race Saturday, the feature event on the weekend's race card, six pacers will vie for a purse of $4,000 in a 14 Class stake event.

I'm It is favored to take the first mile and a quarter race distance ever held at "The Downs". Owned by Mrs. George Van Camp of Circleville, I'm It paced a record of 1:59 4-5 as a 2 yr-old, and posted a mile in 2:00 4-5 this year.

Providing top competition to the brilliant mare is Frisco Hal with a record of 2:03. Mr. Chief Forbes who won at Scioto in 2:03. Wildwood Bill, owned and driven by Erv Samples with a record of 2:00 4-5. Princess Berry from the Curly Smart Stable with a record of 2:03 3-5, and the Detroit speedster Mary Lew H who won in 2:03 1-5 at Hazel Park this year.

In Friday night's featured seventh race, the $1,200 Handicap Trot, Mr. Ambassador still smarting from a defeat last week in a photo finish, is the early pre-race choice on the morning line. Owned by L. L. Wendel of St. Mary's, Ohio, Mr. Ambassador reined by Erv Samples, won in 2:04 3-5 on June 5, then lost out in a photo finish to Bur Dean in 2:04 1-5 in his last race. Samples reports that the aged gelding has returned to form and promises to be the horse they will have to beat. His opposition is the famed Mr. Coaltown now owned by the Shadley Farm of Columbus, Ohio, and Betsy Raider, owned by Leo Van Rhoden of Mount Vernon.

In the eighth race, the co-featured $900 B-3 Pace, Foggy Night, owned by Virgil Stitzel and Walter Hackett of Springfield, Ohio, is the early choice. Trained and driven by Dick Hackett, this gelding son of James K. Abbe, won his last start in a blistering 2:04 2-5. The Bell Aire Farms, L. B. Blackstone is the chief threat to Foggy Night, and Bob Seabrook will be ready with the veteran Betty Rock, owned by the Cartnal Bros. of Newark.

Nine races make up the Friday Night card with post time at 8:15 p. m. Saturday night promises to be another memorable night at Scioto Downs. Nine races will offer $10,500 in purses.

Gray, Kochheiser hurler, had two doubles and a triple in four turns at bat. Hawks chipped in with two singles in three trips, and Bobby Young scored two runs to pace the winners.

Lary Smallwood socked a triple in two trips and scored three runs for the losers.

The regularly scheduled seven inning contest ended in a 6-6 deadlock. VFW jumped on top with a run in the top of the extra frame, but Kochheiser's won out in the bottom of the eighth by scoring two runs.

In the sixth race, eight fast class pacers go postward in the $1,200 Handicap Pace and Gray Rodney, owned by the Montour Farms of Coriopolis, Pa., is the early choice. This pacing son of Rodney breezed to a mile in 2:01 his last time out, and will have to fight off such pacing stalwarts as Barney Blackstone who won in 2:03 1-5 this year, Josedale Jet a row who finished third to the favorite in their last race, and the improving Johnny Chase who owns a record of 2:00 4-5.

In the seventh race, the $2,000 Invitational Pace, the seven fastest horses on the grounds will square off in a battle for pacing honors, and the result could well be a sub two minute clocking. By post position they are No Bargain with a record of 2:02, who finished second to Gray Rodney, Straw Hat with a record of 2:02, Jean's Mink the London flash with a mile mark of 2:02 2-5, Iowa Lieutenant, the pacer who astounded the fans at Scioto last week with a mile in 2:01 2-5, Mighty Lass who is playing hockey from the HTA series, Golden Gift who scored in 2:01 4-5 his last time out, and Edgewood Royal who just missed the two minute mark in his last race, timed in 2:00 4-5.

Hard Holds U.S. Hope in Wightman

LONDON (AP)—Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., carries the brunt of the lead today as America's top women tennis players open defense of the Wightman Cup against a determined British challenge.

The British girls are seeking to regain some of the stature they lost a year ago when the Americans won six of seven matches to take the cup in Chicago.

Miss Hard opens today's competition against Ann Haydon, Britain's hottest player.

Miss Hard will also play in Saturday's opening singles match against Christine Truman, who scored Britain's only Wightman Cup victory last year. Miss Truman opposes Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of Chula Vista, Calif., in today's second singles match. In doubles play, Margaret DuPont of Joseph, Ore., and Margaret Varner of Wilmington, Del., oppose Deidre Catt and Elizabeth Starkie.

Joint Memorial Service Set Sunday at K of P Lodge Hall

Majors Temple 513, Pythian Sisters and Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, will conduct annual Memorial Services 2 p. m. Sunday at the Castle Hall, N. Court St.

All members of the Sisters and Knights and their families and friends are invited. Rev. Henry Mankey, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will present the Memorial address.

The traditional services will pay honor to Sisters and Knights who have died the past year. The list includes one Sister and six Knights.

The honor roster of members deceased since services were conducted last year is: Miss Ethel Stein, George M. Fitzpatrick, Irvin S. Reid, Hylas E. Valentine, Albert C. Leist, Alonzo W. Marion and Emanuel Waites.

MR. VALENTINE was a 50-year member.

Pythian Sisters on the Memorial committee are Mrs. Geneva Woodward, Mrs. Nannie Davis and Mrs. Mary Radcliffe. The Knights committee is composed of Frank Woodward Jr., Dale DeLong and Cecil Andrews.

COURAGEOUS PITCHER—Back home in Somerville, Mass., Everett Knowles, 12, whose severed right arm was sewn back on in a miracle operation in Boston, sits with his dog, Sandy, and dreams of maybe some day pitching again for his Little League baseball team. His arm was torn loose at the shoulder May 23 when he tried to hop a freight train, and was knocked off the train by a bridge abutment.

BABY'S FIRST STEPS—Mother hippopotamus obviously is as proud as any other mother as her baby takes its first cautious steps in the St. Louis Zoo's Elephant House. Born June 3, the 50-pound infant could swim from birth, but needs some gentle nudgings from mother to advance on land. Its sex has not been determined.

Stock Prices Dipping Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market repeated a familiar pattern today—wiping out an early rise and heading lower early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

A bit behind the trend of prices as trading wore on into the afternoon, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .30 at 208.30 with industrials off .60, rails up .20 and utilities off .30.

Key stocks fell from fractions to more than a point. A scattering of pivotal issues clung to the upside as trading grew heavier.

Starting hopefully after four straight days of sharp decline, the list advanced, some blue chips making substantial gains.

But initial purchases drew no following and stocks began to soften. As they weakened, more sellers came into the market.

Joint Memorial Service Set Sunday at K of P Lodge Hall

Majors Temple 515, Pythian Sisters and Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, will conduct annual Memorial Services 2 p. m. Sunday at the Castle Hall, N. Court St.

All members of the Sisters and Knights and their families and friends are invited. Rev. Henry Mankey, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will present the Memorial address.

The traditional services will pay honor to Sisters and Knights who have died the past year. The list includes one Sister and six Knights.

The honor roster of members deceased since services were conducted last year is: Miss Ethel Stein, George M. Fitzpatrick, Irvin S. Reid, Hylas E. Valentine, Albert C. Leist, Alonzo W. Marion and Emanuel Waites.

MR. VALENTINE was a 50-year member.

Pythian Sisters on the Memorial committee are Mrs. Geneva Woodward, Mrs. Nannie Davis and Mrs. Mary Radcliffe. The Knights, committee is composed of Frank Woodward Jr., Dale DeLong and Cecil Andrews.

COURAGEOUS PITCHER—Back home in Somerville, Mass., Everett Knowles, 12, whose severed right arm was sewn back on in a miracle operation in Boston, sits with his dog, Sandy, and dreams of maybe some day pitching again for his Little League baseball team. His arm was torn loose at the shoulder May 23 when he tried to hop a freight train, and was knocked off the train by a bridge abutment.

BABY'S FIRST STEPS—Mother hippopotamus obviously is as proud as any other mother as her baby takes its first cautious steps in the St. Louis Zoo's Elephant House. Born June 3, the 50-pound infant could swim from birth, but needs some gentle nudgings from mother to advance on land. Its sex has not been determined.

Stock Prices Dipping Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market repeated a familiar pattern today—wiping out an early rise and heading lower early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

A bit behind the trend of prices as trading wore on into the afternoon, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .30 at 208.30 with industrials off .60, rails up .20 and utilities off .30.

Key stocks fell from fractions to more than a point. A scattering of pivotal issues hung to the upside as trading grew heavier.

Starting hopefully after four straight days of sharp decline, the list advanced, some blue chips making substantial gains.

But initial purchases drew no following and stocks began to soften. As they weakened, more sellers came into the market.

Netherlands New Guinea, which is 160,000 square miles in area, has saw-toothed mountains which divide a nearly trackless land of steaming palm jungles and forested highlands.
